PAVES THE WAY FOR GREATER PITTSBURGH MEASURE

Gov. Pennypacker Issues a Supplementary Call for Extra Session.

SUBJECT IMPORTANT

Uniform Primary Elections, Civil Service and Campaign Expenditures Included.

BROUGHT ABOUT BY WATSON

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
HARRISBURG, PA., Jan. 9.

Gov. Pennypacker's pronounced interest in the Greater Pittsburgh project is believed to have been largely responsible for the issuance today of a supplemental call for the extra session of the Pennsylvania legislature which is to convene on Monday next.

David T. Watson of Pittsburgh, in a conference with the governor at the executive mansion yesterday, convinced him that a bill for the consolidation of Pittsburgh and Allegheny that would stand a test in court could not be adopted under the terms of the original call. The governor, thereupon, decided that the subject was of sufficient importance to warrant a supplemental call. In addition the governor provides that the legislature may consider the subjects of uniform primary elections, civil service in the state departments and regulation of political campaign expenditures.

The demand for uniform primaries has been widespread and very pronounced, especially since the original call came out with no provision for this matter. After that call had been issued a committee consisting of Alexander Simpson, Jr., J. Hampton Moore, Thomas Raeburn White and Francis Fisher Kane, representing all the political parties in Philadelphia, awaited on the governor and urged him in most forcible terms to issue a supplemental call and open the way for uniform primaries.

Will Facilitate Legislation.

The governor's action today is regarded by his official associates as a concession to public sentiment. It will enable the legislature, if it so desires, to adopt a law requiring that all parties shall nominate their candidates at the same time, at the same places and under the supervision of a single election board for each district. This is the plan that has been advocated for several years by the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce, which drafted a bill to this effect and had it introduced in the legislature of 1901.

The proposition to require political candidates and managers of campaigns to make public accounting of the money they spend has not been so urgently advocated as the uniform primary idea, but there have been numerous requests to the governor to give the legislature an opportunity to act on this subject also, and he has included it in his call in deference to these requests.

Civil service in the state departments has long been discussed, but opinions have been divided as to the practicability of the plan. The governor's proclamation today limits the consideration of this subject to the "routine offices and employments of the commonwealth," and does not include civil service for municipal employes as recently recommended to him by a delegation of policemen and firemen from Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

Will Lengthen Session.

It is believed here that the additional subjects provided in the governor's call will add about two weeks to the length of the extra session, thereby postponing final adjournment probably until about March or a little later. The extension of the time will add nothing to the pay of the senators and representatives, who receive $500 each for the extra session. Clerks and other employes of the legislature, however, are pleased at the prospect of additional per diem pay.

The governor's supplementary proclamation follows:

"Whereas, An extraordinary session of the general assembly of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been called under authority of article IV., section 12, of the Constitution, to meet in the capitol at Harrisburg on Monday, January 15, 1906, at 2 o'clock p. m. of that day. Now, therefore, I, Samuel W. Pennypacker, governor of the commonwealth, do hereby designate the following additional subjects for the consideration of the general assembly with a view to legislation at the said session with respect to them:

"First—To revise the laws relative to primary elections in such way as to provide for the holding of the primary elections of all political parties within the commonwealth on the same day, at the same time, under the supervision of properly constituted officers, and to make such changes in, or additions to, these laws as may seem advisable.

Civil Service System.

"Second—To establish a civil service system, by means of which the routine offices and employments of the commonwealth may be filled by appointments made after ascertainment of qualifications and fitness, and the incumbents of such offices may retain them during good behavior.

"Third—To designate the uses to which moneys may be applied by candidates, political managers and committees in political campaigns, both for nominations and elections, and to require the managing committees and managers of all political parties to file with some designated official at the close of each campaign a detailed statement in writing, accompanied by affidavit of the amount collected and the purposes for which they were expended.

"Fourth—To enable cities that are now

BARON VON RICHTHOFEN IN GRAVE CONDITION

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—Baron Von Richthofen, the foreign secretary, who has figured prominently in the Moroccan question, and whose serious illness became generally known yesterday, is reported tonight to be in a most grave condition as a result of a stroke of apoplexy. His physicians' bulletin, however, says that his recovery is not impossible.

HAPPY CHILDHOOD HERS AGAIN BEFORE DEATH

Mrs. Mary Greenhouse of Apollo Dies Aged 106—Regained Sight and Memory Before Dying.

Mrs. Mary Greenhouse of Apollo, Armstrong county, died yesterday at the home of her son, Joseph Hartley, in Sebring, O., at the remarkable age of 106 years. For 20 years she had been almost blind, and her memory also had been failing for years.

Recently, however, she recovered her vision and memory, and again learned to read and write. Although over 100 years old she would read aloud to her grandchildren, taking great delight in the simple stories printed for the entertainment of children.

Her son, Joseph Hartley, at whose home in Sebring she died, is in his 70th year. The remains of Mrs. Greenhouse will be brought to Apollo for burial.

BOIES PENROSE RICH.

Increase in Value of Copper Holdings Alone Places Him in Very Comfortable Circumstances.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—(Special.)—The advance in the value of Utah Copper Company has placed United States Senator Boies Penrose among the list of rich men. It is said that the senator's holdings are worth in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars. Spencer Penrose, brother of the senator, was the man who figured as promoter of the mines and other members of the Penrose family hold enough stock to give the senator a controlling interest.

The Utah Copper Company was incorporated in New Jersey on April 30, 1904, the capital stock being $4,500,000. On November 21, 1905, an amended charter was filed, increasing the capital to $6,000,000. The stock is par at $10, but is now selling about 38. Boies Penrose has 5,500 shares and Spencer Penrose 80,271 shares. It is understood that the mines are near Colorado Springs.

Vesuvius Has Sudden Eruption While Etna Is Alarming Residents of Sicily. Tourists Witness Scene.

NAPLES, Italy, Jan. 9.—There was a sudden eruption of Mount Vesuvius today and the scene was witnessed by thousands of tourists. Three streams of lava reached the lower station of the Funicular railroad, causing serious damage. There are indications that the activity is increasing.

The eruption is thought to be connected with that of Mount Etna, in Sicily, which is in a state of activity without precedent since the eruption of 1899. Mount Etna is now ejecting red-hot ashes which form an immense cone over the crater.

NEW YORK COURT PETITIONED TO FORCE ROGERS TO ANSWER

Missouri Official Secures Order and Hearing Is Set for Today.

LAWSON REBUFFED

Hadley Says He Wants Bostonian Only If He Is Informed in This Case.

P. C. BOYLE, PRESS AGENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The question whether Henry H. Rogers can be compelled to tell Attorney General Hadley of Missouri whether the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey owns or controls three oil companies which are selling oil in Missouri as separate companies, will be placed before the supreme court of New York state tomorrow. All the important questions which Mr. Rogers has declined to answer were presented to the supreme court and the court granted an order on Mr. Rogers to show cause why he should not answer. It was served on William V. Rowe, counsel for Mr. Rogers, while the hearing was in progress today.

An interesting feature of the hearing today was an invitation sent by Mr. Hadley to Thomas W. Lawson of Boston, requesting him to testify if he can give any information as to the three companies Mr. Hadley is trying to drive out of Missouri.

Lawson sent a lengthy telegram informing the attorney general that he personally knew nothing of the relations between the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the Republic Oil Company and the Waters-Pierce Company, and that while he was aware of certain acts of the Standard Oil "monopoly," he could not "fairly come within the wise restrictions" of Mr. Hadley's telegram.

Mr. Rogers again declined while on the stand today to disclose the stock ownership of the three companies and was severely admonished by Mr. Hadley to treat the hearing seriously and not as "funny." The subpoena server who has been trying for several days to summon H. Clay Pierce, notified Mr. Hadley that he has been unable to get him, who, he said, had sailed away on a steam yacht. Mr. Pierce is chairman of the board of directors of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company of Missouri. John D. Archbold and William G. Rockefeller were present at the hearing. They have been subpoenaed as witnesses.

Not Worth While.

Rogers was first witness today.

"How long have you been connected with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana?"

"I don't know."

"Since its organization?"

"I don't think it is worth while to answer that."

"Will you permit me to be the judge of that."

Mr. Hadley asked if he was connected with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana when it succeeded to the business of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky.

"Were you connected in any way with the Consolidated Tank Line Company which did business in Missouri, and was succeeded by the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky?"

"I decline to answer."

"Did you ever by yourself or others as trustees own or hold any stock in the Waters-Pierce Oil Company of Missouri?"

"Were you a trustee of the original Standard Oil trust?"

Mr. Rogers' attorney objected and the witness did not answer.

"Is it not a fact that you and eight other persons in the Standard Oil trust held 1,200 shares of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company

JOSEPH C. SIBLEY READY TO QUIT CONGRESS

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Friends of Joseph C. Sibley of Franklin, representative in congress from the Twenty-eighth Pennsylvania district, have been given to understand that Mr. Sibley will not be a candidate for re-election this fall. It is understood that Mr. Sibley has had enough of congressional life, and now desires to retire from active politics. When asked about the matter today, Mr. Sibley would not either confirm or deny the report. However, it is given on good authority.

There is already considerable speculation as to who will succeed Mr. Sibley from the Twenty-eighth district. Maj. Alexander McDowell of Sharon, clerk of the house, has been urged by some of his friends to again enter congress, but the major has no ambition to do so. His present position as clerk is more to his liking. It is probable that Warren county will demand the congressman, as Venango has had the honor for several years.

It is also reported that Solomon R. Dresser of Bradford, who represents the Twenty-first district in congress, will not be a candidate for re-election this fall. He is serving his second term.

MARSHALL FIELD ILL.

Contracts Severe Cold While Traveling from Chicago to New York—Physician and Nurses in Attendance.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(Special.)—Marshall Field of Chicago arrived here today in a special car and at once took to a bed in the Holland house, suffering from a severe attack of bronchitis, following a slight cold caught while traveling. Mr. Field's condition is not regarded as dangerous, but a physician is in constant attendance, and professional nurses have been provided.

Owing to Mr. Field's advancing years and the shock he underwent from the recent death of his son, it was feared that the patient might not rally as well as he should. His temperature is high and pulse low and intermittent.

FATAL DUEL IN WEST.

Sheriff Killed by Man He Defeated at Polls, but Wounds His Opponent to Death.

DURANGO, COL., Jan. 9.—Sheriff W. J. Thompson of La Plata county was killed by Policeman Jesse Stensel of Durango, in a pistol duel on the main street here today. Stensel is fatally wounded.

There had existed a feud between the men since the late election when they were both candidates for the office of sheriff.

Frozen in Three Feet of Water.

SHARON, PA., Jan. 9.—(Special.)—W. H. Thompson may die from the effects of an experience he had in a pit at a local coke works yesterday. He was repairing a number of traces when a couple of planks fell upon him holding him in three feet of water so that just his head and shoulders were clear. Some time after he was found unconscious. The ice had frozen about his body and the ice had to be cracked before he was released.

PROBE TO BE SUNK DEEP INTO AFFAIRS OF CANAL

Senate Committee Empowered to Make a Thorough Investigation of Work.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Full authority to lift the lid from the Panama situation was given the committee on inter-oceanic canals by the senate today. The committee is empowered to hold the investigation either in full committee or by sub-committee to sit during the sessions and the recesses of the senate, and to summon all necessary persons and papers.

A resolution providing for this investigation was presented at this morning's session by Senator Millard, chairman of the committee, and was adopted by a unanimous vote of the senate. At the meeting of the canal committee held previous to the convening of the senate the necessity for investigation was discussed at length, and it was the sense of all the members, Republicans as well as Democrats, that every phase of the canal situation must be fully probed.

As a result of this determination, nothing was done with the pending nominations of members of the Isthmian canal commission. Necessarily the official records and acts of these commissioners will fall within the scope of the proposed investigation, and in consequence nothing will be done with these nominations until the investigation has been completed.

SPARKS AND STUTTERS.

Sharpsburg Church Was in No Danger, But Firemen Could Not Wait for an Explanation.

A stuttering negro watchman and the sparks from a huge fire of hemlock logs burning in the nearly completed Presbyterian church at Thirteenth and North Canal streets, sent Sharpsburg into ecstasies of excitement early yesterday morning. Dr. N. R. Graham, who lives opposite the edifice, which will cost $75,000 when completed, saw sparks flying out of the windows at 2 a. m. He turned in a general alarm, and in a few minutes the street was filled with the members of three volunteer fire companies and hundreds of excited neighbors.

The firemen coupled their hose and dashed into the building. They were met by the watchman, but they did not hesitate to listen to his halting discourse. When they had dragged their hose to an upper floor, they found the watchman had built a large fire in a stove to dry out the freshly plastered walls. They went home and the watchman has not yet completed his explanation.

PART DUCK: PART EAGLE.

Buena Vista Resident Is Puzzled by a Strange Bird That Flew Into a Trolley Wire.

Residents of Buena Vista on the Youghiogheny river, are puzzled by a bird captured last Sunday by David McBeth. The bird appears to be a hybrid between an eagle and a duck. It measurers five feet from tip of one wing to the other, and has a head and web feet like a duck. Its bill, however, is file shaped, and its color is steel gray.

The bird was stunned by coming in contact with a trolley wire, and fell to the ground. McBeth picked it up and placed it in a cage at home. Shortly afterward the captive recovered. It displays a vicious disposition when approached.

DIPLOMAT WILL VISIT HOME AT WASHINGTON, PA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(Special.)—U. S. Grant Smith, second secretary of legation at Constantinople, was here today on his way to his home in Washington, Pa., where he will spend a 60-day leave. Mr. Smith called upon Representatives Acheson, Dalzell, Huff, Burke and other Western Pennsylvania members at the capital.

WANTS LAW TO PREVENT BATTLESHIP COLLISIONS

Congressman Acheson Introduces a Bill Providing for Licensed Pilot.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Representative Acheson of Pennsylvania today introduced a bill requiring all battleships of the United States, when entering or leaving any port of any state, to take out a licensed pilot, and providing for a fine of $500 for any captain or commander who neglects to do so. This bill is introduced at the request of the pilots and is the result of the recent collision of battleships at New York.

NORFOLK, VA., Jan. 9.—The United States battleship Alabama arrived at the Norfolk navy yard this afternoon, coming for repairs to the gun and several plates which were injured when she collided with the battleship Kentucky in New York harbor Sunday. She will be detained at the yard at least 10 days, after which she will join the Atlantic fleet. It was announced from the Norfolk yard today that the fleet, which will have been fully assembled by January 15, will sail for the south January 18.

LIVED HERE RECENTLY.

Book from Local Bank Found Among Effects of Constantine, Alleged Murderer of Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The police today received information that led them to believe that they will, in a short time, be able to arrest Frank J. Constantine, the reputed murderer of Mrs. A. W. Gentry. The barkeeper in a hotel at One Hundredth street, informed the police that a man closely resembling Constantine called and asked to have a $20 bill changed. The suspect asked the way to Hammond and Whiting, Ind.

Evidence was today found among Constantine's effects showing that he had resided in Pittsburgh until November 29. A bank book made out to him by the National Bank of West Pennsylvania was discovered, showing, according to the entries, a small cash balance in his favor. The last entry showed a withdrawal on November 29.

Gang of Men Employed by One Company Tears Up Track and Burns Bridge of Another.

PORTLAND, ORE., Jan. 9.—The controversy between E. H. Harriman's Oregon Railway and Navigation Company against J. J. Hill's Portland & Seattle railway over the crossing point of the railroads just north of Portland, assumed a decidedly sensational aspect today.

Today a gang of men under direction, it is alleged, of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, went to the disputed point, tore up several hundred feet of track and burned a bridge which the Portland & Seattle had constructed across the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company's right of way.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 9.—William Bruyn, a negro, and Frances Courter, a white girl, returned to Washingtonville last night from Newburgh and announced that they had been married.

The girl's father knocked them both down and the angry villagers attacked Bruyn and threatened to lynch him. He escaped, but later he and the girl were placed in jail.

Baldwin Off Arctic Club List.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(Special.)—The Arctic club of New York last night dropped Evelyn Baldwin from the list because of his attempts to have the late William Ziegler arrested and tried in Missouri for action taken with regard to anti-alum baking powder legislation. This attempt followed Mr. Ziegler's removal of him from command of the first Ziegler polar expedition.

WHITE'S BLACK, BLACK'S WHITE, SAY THREE GOOD MEN AND TRUE

Identify One of Alleged Card Sharps as the Man Who Beat a Greensburg Attorney Out of $4,000 Two Years Ago.

White is black, and Black was white, according to the statements made by three men in the county jail yesterday.

James White, one of the alleged card sharps arrested at the Hotel Lincoln Friday night by Detective Rice for planning to swindle a business man out of $3,000, is wanted in Greensburg on a charge of forgery. White was identified by three men as James Riley, alias Dictus, who swindled H. E. Black, an attorney of Greensburg, out of $4,000 about two years ago.

White went to Greensburg with a man whom he represented as his son-in-law, to buy a farm. They selected a farm, worth $10,000, owned by M. G. Black. They informed the farmer they would wait a few days until they secured certified copy of the deed, so they could have a search of the title made. White and his partner are alleged to have gone to E. C. Griffith, a real estate dealer of Greensburg, who is also a notary, and had a legal paper acknowledged to secure Griffith's signature.

White got a blank deed, it is alleged, and which he filled in, deeding the farm to himself, and attached Griffith's signature to the paper. White took the deed to Attorney Black, said he wanted to make some improvements on the farm, and needed some money. Black made a brief examination of the deed and had White attach his signature to a blank mortgage, which the attorney intended to fill out later. Black then gave White $4,000. White left. A few days later the forgery was discovered.

When White's picture appeared in the newspapers in connection with his arrest at the Hotel Lincoln, Black and his friends immediately recognized him as James Riley. Yesterday morning they came here and identified White at the county jail. If White should not be convicted of the charge of conspiracy in this county, he will be taken to Westmoreland county and stand trial for forgery.

Walter L. Brown alias H. D. Jones, George Hall alias George Carroll, James White, W. E. Reese and George Saxeby were held for court yesterday by Magistrate Kirby on a charge of conspiracy and misdemeanor. The men were held in $1,000 each for court. Reese was the only prisoner to secure bail. The men were charged with conspiracy by Supt. McQuaide.

Detective Rice explained the details of the case to Magistrate Kirby. Attorneys defending the prisoners tried to learn the name of the man who acted as a decoy for the detectives, but Rice refused to divulge it. James B. George was given as a name to the attorneys, but Rice said this was not the name of the man who aided the officers.

ASSASSINS KEEP BUSY IN RUSSIA

SIBERIA ON VERGE OF REVOLT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Moscow correspondent of the Times says it is reported that 18 revolutionaries were executed Saturday last, and that among them was Mr. Schmidt, the owner of the celebrated furniture factory in the Presna district.

NOVOMINSK, Jan. 9.—Prefect Ivanatskevich was assassinated today while he was driving in a sleigh from the railroad station. His little daughter, who was sitting by his side, was wounded.

APATOFF, Jan. 2.—A lieutenant of police was killed and two policemen wounded here today.

NAGASAKI, Jan. 9.—The transport Mongolia, which arrived here today from Vladivostok with Russian refugees, reports that a general uprising throughout Siberia is feared.

MITAU, COURLAND, Jan. 9.—Fugitives who have arrived here from the interior recount remarkable stories of the civil administration set up by the revolutionists in the towns and villages they control. They have elected committees, in which one woman always serves, to administer everything, including the courts. The whipping post for thefts has been revived and for certain classes, robbery is punishable with death. The spirit shops are closed and preaching the doctrine of the damnation of souls is forbidden. Only civil marriages are legal.

LEPEL, Jan. 9.—Four persons were killed and several wounded in a frenzied attack today by a band of Lithuanian peasants on a detachment of infantry sent to restore order in this section of Vitebsk. The peasants, who were armed only with clubs, but who were held by their leader to be invincible, charged up to the muzzles of the rifles. They were not checked by a volley into the air and only halted when a deadly salvo was fired at close range.

RIGA, Jan. 9.—Though the troops are operating energetically in all directions, the revolutionary peasants are continuing their work of devastation, wandering in groups through the provinces and attacking trains and passengers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 9.—Martial law was today declared at Ekaterinodar, South Russia; Sumy, in the government of Khrakoff; Novorossysk, on the east coast of the Black sea; Yuzovka, on the north shore of the Sea of Azov, and Smiela, in the government of Kieff.

The success which thus far has attended the campaign against the violent revolutionists has plainly encouraged the government to believe that the worst is over for the winter, except in the Baltic provinces, the Caucasus and the Don region, where the prevailing anarchy is likely to continue indefinitely. Some semblance of order is being gradually restored in the empire. The socialists and revolutionists stoutly maintain that the present lull is only a truce over the holidays and from mysterious hiding places the leaders continue issuing orders to refuse all compromise with imperialism, to boycott the national assembly and to prepare for a great armed insurrection.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—It is stated in well-informed quarters that the negotiations between M. Kogorsoff, the former Russian minister of finance, and the French bankers, have resulted in the latter agreeing to advance to the Russian government 250,000,000 at 5½ per cent interest plus 2 per cent commission. The state railroads are offered as a guarantee for the money advanced, which is to be reimbursed from the proceeds of the proposed new loan, should the latter be floated within a year.

BOYLE'S MIND IS CALMED.

Policeman Who Was Upset by Mrs. Lena Able's Disfigured Body Out of Hospital.

Sub-Patrolman James H. Boyle, who was prostrated Monday after viewing the body of Mrs. Lena Able, 625 Brownsville avenue, who was found in the cellar stabbed and partly burned, was released from the St. Francis hospital yesterday, having fully recovered. Boyle said he had been in bad physical condition for some time. Sunday night he worked all night, and when he went in a patrol wagon to the home of Mrs. Able and assisted in carrying her body in the wagon he felt ill. He afterward went to city hall to draw his wages, and when he returned home collapsed and became deranged. He was taken to the hospital where he secured a good night's rest and was discharged.

The coroner and the police are still investigating the death of Mrs. Able. Deputy Coroner Lowe says there is no doubt that Mrs. Able was stabbed to death and burned afterward. Andrew J. Able, the dead woman's husband, is still in jail, charged with murder. Deputy Lowe says he has already told a number of conflicting stories in connection with the death of his wife.

Bellevue Solons Meet in Harmony.

Bellevue council met in harmony last night and sustained the veto of Burgess Martin of the Pennsylvania Light, Heat and Power Company's ordinance. The ordinance was passed through at a meeting last month, and Burgess Martin claimed it had not been properly considered. At the last meeting two of the councilmen almost came to blows during a discussion of the ordinance.

YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS A CALL

New List of Numbers Are to Appear Soon and Your "Lucky Piece" May Be Wanted.

ORDER SUNDAY'S GAZETTE

GAZETTE "LUCKY PIECES" MAY BRING REWARDS

Look for a "Lucky Piece."

If you find one, keep it. It may bring money.

A "lucky piece" is an aluminum disc, just the size of a half dollar, with a number stamped on one side and the familiar "Coon" on the reverse.

All through the wide territory in which the daily and Sunday Gazette circulate these "Lucky Pieces" are being lost. Each bears a number. Certain numbers will secure part of the fortune The Gazette is sharing among its readers. From time to time numbers will be called for. If you see in The Gazette's list the number of the good luck disc you hold, bring or send it to The Gazette office and get the amount named.

Do not expect to get a cash reward unless the number of your "Lucky Piece" is called for, but if the number of yours is announced, the amount named will be paid for its return. Watch the daily and Sunday Gazette for the lucky lists.

No matter how much money you've got, you can always use a little more. If you haven't very much, every little bit additional goes to "help some." So whether you have much or little, you are not likely to turn down an opportunity of adding to your stock. All of which is pertinent to the matter of "Lucky Pieces." They are liable to bring you money, even as much as $100.

The long list of those who have already received cash in exchange for their good luck discs shows that it pays to take a chance. They found "Lucky Pieces," watched the announcements from time to time in the columns of The Gazette and when they saw their numbers called for they came and got their money. That's simple enough, isn't it? Sort o' leaves the whole question with you, for the minute you find a "Lucky Piece" you stand just as much chance as the others of sharing in the fortune The Gazette has started to give away.

On Thursday morning another list of the numbers which will bring rewards will appear and in next Sunday's Gazette will be calls for many more.

The number of your "Lucky Piece" may come, and it's your own fault if you don't see the lists. If you are to "strike it rich" you want to know it. The only way you can find out is by watching the announcements in The Gazette.

Notify your carrier or newsdealer and he will see the paper is brought to your door.

Many funny things have turned up in connection with the hunt for "Lucky Pieces," but quite the most amusing came yesterday in the shape of request to stop payment on a certain number if it should be called and any one but the undersigned should present it for redemption. Out of charity for the writer, his name is not published, but this is what he said:

If the Lucky Piece No. 44,824 should draw anything, and the party now holding it should present it to you to be redeemed, please stop any payment on it, as it was taken from my place of business under questionable conditions.

It might be well for the writer to understand that no "Old Sleuth" business is being conducted in connection with the redeeming of "Lucky Pieces." If he knows where his former good luck disc now reposes, it is up to him to locate it.

The following fortunate persons called or sent to The Gazette office yesterday and received the rewards due them:

P. E. Selbel, 7013 Mt. Vernon street, Homewood, No. 15,634 ..... $5
James Donavon, 1109 Lecky avenue, Allegheny, No. 14,853 5
F. F. Attenburg, 315 North Main street, Butler, Pa., No. 28,502 5
Reed Parkhill, Sixth street, New Haven, Pa., No. 37,615 2
C. E. Stack, 3301 Guernsey street, Bellaire, O., No. 39,342 1
W. M. Naylor, Brilliant, O., No. 36784 1
Mrs. A. W. Francis, 1021 Ninth avenue, Beaver Falls, Pa., No. 28,714 1
Rose May Ash, Toronto, O., No. 39785 1
Miss Della B. Giles, New Haven, Pa., No. 37,684 1
Alfred Rosenbloom, Braddock avenue, Braddock, No. 25,598 1

Your luck may come in due time, if you are patient and watch The Gazette. Those lists to come in Thursday's Gazette and in next Sunday's Gazette will bring joy to many. But there are to be additional calls also, and if you hold a "Lucky Piece," it's up to you to watch.

Order next Sunday's Gazette now from your carrier or newsdealer, so that you will be sure to receive it.

IRON WORKERS STRIKE TO BE CALLED BY RYAN

New York Troubles to Be Spread All Over Country—Say 200,000 Will Be Affected.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—A national strike against employers in the allied building trades will be ordered Thursday. It will affect 10,000 structural iron workers and indirectly throw more than 200,000 workers out of employment. Frank N. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Iron Workers, will leave New York tomorrow for Cleveland to order the strike. Before he leaves the city he will issue a call for a meeting of the international executive committee in Cleveland.

The strike was asked for by the Greater New York district council of the Housesmiths and Bridgemens' union, which, at a secret meeting, decided to seek assistance for their strike in this city. The New York employers have contracts in many of the principal cities.

FUGITIVES ON TRIAL.

Greene and Gaynor Appear in Savannah Court, and Hard Legal Battle Is Begun.

SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 9.—The first day of the Greene and Gaynor case in the United States court for the southern district of Georgia, was consumed in preliminary skirmishes between counsel with the issue upon the contention advanced still undecided when adjournment until tomorrow was taken. It is possible that it may be some days before the point of drawing the jury is reached.

After four years spent in exile Benjamin D. Greene and John F. Gaynor appeared in court this morning. Peter W. Meldrim is leading counsel, and Osborne and Lawrence associate counsel for the defense. For the government appeared Special United States Attorney General Marion Erwin, assisted by Samuel B. Adams and Gen. Thomas F. Barr, United States army, retired, and formerly judge advocate general, whom Mr. Erwin introduced to the court as assigned by the attorney general to assist in the prosecution.

WATCH CIRCULATES FREELY.

Endless Chain Defense Is Presented by Four Suspects.

The process by which a gold watch, stolen from Miss Ann Kelly of Crafton, passed into a Wylie avenue pawn shop was a matter for investigation before Alderman Toole yesterday, when Van Reynolds, "Kid" Reeder, "Bob" Vanderhel and Phil Pinkney were presented for a hearing.

Vanderbel is charged with pawning the watch. He said he received it from Pinkney who, in turn, said he bought it from Reeder, and Reeder claims he secured it from Reynolds. The latter does not know the man he bought it from. All were held for court in $300 each.

COURT PETITIONED TO FORCE ROGERS TO ANSWER

in June 20, 1888, as now appears in the officers of the secretary of the state of Missouri?"

"I decline to answer."

"How long a time has the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, either through itself or some other person, held or controlled a majority of the stock of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company?"

"I decline to answer."

"That is, you decline to tell for how long a time?"

"For how long has the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey owned or controlled a majority of the stock of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana?"

"I decline to answer."

Declines to Answer.

"Is it not a fact that a majority of the stock in each of these corporations has been transferred, or is owned or controlled by the same person or persons; and by person I mean corporation?"

Mr. Hagaman objected and Mr. Rogers asked what companies Mr. Hadley meant. Mr. Hadley said he meant the defendant's.

Mr. Rogers declined to answer.

This ended the direct evidence and Mr. Rogers was excused. He returned to the stand and said:

Reprimanded by Hadley.

"On Saturday afternoon when I was asked, 'Do you know Walter C. Teagle?' I want to say that the man I supposed was meant was John Teagle, whom I know."

Mr. Hadley brought out that John Teagle was a member of Schoedel, Schurmer & Teagle and is in the oil business.

"Did you find out that Walter C. Teagle is a member of the foreign committee of the Standard Oil Company?"

Mr. Rogers started to answer, but the objection of his counsel stopped him.

"Is it not funny that you do not know?" Mr. Rogers made an answer so low as to be unheard.

"I want you to treat this matter with the seriousness which your position warrants," said Mr. Hadley.

"I understand Walter C. Teagle is connected with some foreign business. I have met him at 26 Broadway and elsewhere."

"Do you know C. M. Adams, secretary of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company?"

"I have heard of him."

"Did he go to St. Louis in 1892 in connection with an oil company in which you were interested and of which you were a member?"

"I decline to answer."

Police at 26 Broadway.

Eugene Carney was the next witness. He said he is a police officer at 26 Broadway "to look after peddlers and beggars." He was used to determine who had offices at 28 Broadway, but for the most part he refused to answer, on the advice of counsel.

Howard Page said he is connected with the foreign department of the Standard Oil Company. He was questioned as to whether certain persons had offices at 26 Broadway, but declined to answer almost every question by direction of the Standard Oil Company attorney. He said he never knew of two oil companies selling in the same territory.

Mr. Page said he did not on Friday, while A. V. Jockel was on the witness stand, circulate a statement involving a criminal charge against Mr. Jockel. The statement, he said, came from the American Surety Company, and someone from 26 Broadway got it.

A. V. Jockel, recalled, said on Friday he saw the statement, about which Mr. Page was questioned, in the hands of P. C. Boyle of the Oil City Derrick, and that a reporter of a New York newspaper told him Page gave it to Mr. Boyle for circulation among newspaper men. Mr. Boyle told witness that it was not his personal property and he had to return it. It related, Jockel said, to a criminal charge brought against him and never prosecuted, and of which he was innocent. It was about two years before his connection with the Standard Oil Company.

Wade Hampton on Stand.

Wade Hampton said he was general auditor of accounts. He declined to answer a question as to what companies he is connected with. He said his office is at 28 Broadway and that he audits oil accounts.

"Whose oil accounts?"

"I decline to answer."

"Do you audit the accounts of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey or of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana?"

"I decline to answer."

"Do you audit the accounts of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the Waters-Pierce Company and the Republic Oil Company?"

"I decline to answer, except I do not audit the accounts of the Waters-Pierce Company or the Republic Oil Company. The accounts of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana are under my general direction."

"Who audits the Waters - Pierce Company's accounts?"

"I don't know."

"When did you quit?"

No answer.

Witness said R. F. Tinsley is agent at 26 Broadway.

"Agent for what?"

No answer.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9.—During an investigation before the state board of railroad and warehouse commissioners today, Assistant Attorney General Kennish brought out evidence to the effect that the Standard Oil Company is enforcing arbitrary freight rates on oil between St. Louis and Kansas City. The testimony showed that a rate of 22 cents a hundred pounds is in effect from St. Louis to Kansas City, while the rate from Kansas City to St. Louis is only 17 cents. It was stated by witnesses that this disparity was due to the effort of the Standard Oil Company to prevent St. Louis concerns from competing with it in the western field.

SHOT AT PEACE MEETING.

Old Feud Breaks Out With Fatal Results When Principals Get Together for Settlement.

OWINGSVILLE, KY., Jan. 9.—(Special.)—News late tonight is that a general fight occurred in the mountains of Wayne county between James Bell, his two brothers, Alfred and Wayne, and Levy Dobbs on one side, and John and Ben Dean and Porter Price on the other, in which Wayne Bell was shot and instantly killed and James and Alfred Bell and Porter Price fatally wounded. Pistols and shotguns were used by the combatants and about 50 shots were fired.

There is a feud of long standing between the Bell and Dean factions and the parties had met to arrange a settlement when the trouble arose. Some of the Deans are in the Wayne county jail. Efforts are being made to keep the survivors from meeting.

NINE FIREMEN ARE HURT.

Fire in Heart of East Side Tenement District Almost Causes Serious Panic.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Nine firemen were injured, one seriously, by a falling wall at a fire in a stable in the heart of the East Side tenement district tonight. More dangerous than the fire was the threatened panic and stampede among the occupants of the tenement houses in the neighborhood. At the first flash of flame men and women in the tenements began to throw their belongings, furniture and all, into the streets. Fireman John O'Rourke was probably fatally injured.

Phipps to Build Electric Plant.

The public works committee of Allegheny councils last night ordered printed for councils an ordinance to permit Henry Phipps to lay water and steam pipes and electric wires under Rebecca street in the First ward. It is said Mr. Phipps' intention is to erect an electric power and heat plant, so as to furnish light and heat for his tenants in the community. Ordinances for the construction of sewers in Montrose and Wabash avenues and Valley street were ordered printed.

"Lou" Payn's Daughter Seeks Divorce.

PITTSFIELD, MASS., Jan. 9.—(Special.)—Before Judge Crosby in the superior court today was told the story of the downfall of Dr. Azro Chase Haynor from the position of health officer for the port of New York to that of janitor in a club house. Mrs. Mary L. P. Haynor is trying to get a divorce on the grounds of intoxication by use of drugs. A. M. Wood, Mrs. Haynor's lawyer, says she is the daughter of "Lou" Payn, the Republican politician and former state superintendent of insurance in New York.

BIG CITY IS NOW SAID TO BE CERTAIN

Guthrie Says Constitutional Greater Pittsburgh Bill Can Be Prepared Under New Call.

The action of Gov. Pennypacker in issuing a supplemental call for the extra session of the legislature has removed all doubt about the enactment of a constitutional law to permit the formation of a Greater Pittsburgh.

George W. Guthrie who, with D. T. Watson, is preparing an annexation bill for the chamber of commerce, is now satisfied a constitutional measure can be prepared. He and Mr. Watson will have their bill ready in a short time.

Senator Goehring of Allegheny will take advantage of the governor's broadening of the scope of the work of the extra session to permit of the consideration of civil service legislation. Last session the senator introduced a bill to establish a state civil service commission of three, with the power to appoint local boards. He will present the same measure in the extra session. His plan is about the same as the law now in force regulating federal employes. It would cost about $75,000 a year to operate his proposed law in the state.

During the session of 1901 Senator Flinn introduced a primary election bill. This same measure will find its way into the extra session. The last time the lawmakers met, Representative Flynn of Elk, a Democrat, presented the bill. It provides for the holding of the primaries of all parties on the same day.

Many of the other bills to be introduced at the special session will be prepared by Attorney General Carson. It is understood he now has several measures ready for introduction.

FUSIONISTS WIN IN THE PHILADELPHIA CONTEST

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Gov. Pennypacker having issued a proclamation convening the general assembly in extraordinary session next week, special elections were held today in several legislative districts in Philadelphia and other counties of the state to fill vacancies in the legislature in this city, and one senator and four members of the house of representatives were elected, while two representatives were chosen in York county, and one each in Westmoreland, Luzerne and Allegheny counties. Crawford county will elect a representative on Thursday.

In Philadelphia the City party, which swept the city in November, fused with the Democrats against the regular Republicans and succeeded in electing the fusion candidate for senator and two of the four candidates for the lower house, Vivian F. Gable, the fusion candidate for senator, received 21,524 votes, and J. R. Ramsden, his Republican opponent, 9,750. In November the reform candidate for sheriff in the same district polled 31,987 and the Republican candidate 18,758.

The candidates elected to the lower house are: First district, Conrad Muhly, Republican; Seventeenth district, John H. Few, City party; Nineteenth district, Joseph Call, Republican; Twenty-second district, Hugh A. Hill, City party and Democrat.

ON GREATER PITTSBURGH.

Secretary Wardrop of the M. & M. Association Gives Pleasing Talk to St. Peter's Men's Club.

"Greater Pittsburgh" was the subject of an informal address by James W. Wardrop, secretary of the Merchants & Manufacturers' association, last night before a largely attended meeting of St. Peter's Men's Social club of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Forbes street and Craft avenue. The meeting was the regular monthly gathering of the club and Mr. Wardrop's address was most enthusiastically received. While he presented no new points on the projected merging of the two cities, Mr. Wardrop gave his auditors an excellent outline of the plan by which it is hoped to accomplish that end and the manifold benefits that would result. Following the address, light refreshments were served in the gymnasium and the remainder of the evening was spent in social intercourse. The arrangements for the affair were made by the Rev. A. H. Beavin, associate rector of St. Peter's and a committee of club members.

The spacious and fully equipped gymnasium for the use of the club members was only recently completed. It is proving a popular feature.

Frick Gets Hyde's Place.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—James W. Alexander and James Hazen Hyde, until recently president and vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, were today dropped from the board of directors of the Franklin National bank. H. C. Frick and Paul F. Cravath were elected to fill the vacancies. Mr. Frick not long ago resigned as a director following his quarrel with Hyde.

SETTLEMENT MADE FOR THE NORFOLK FORGERY

Claimed That William Duke & Co. Were the Victims of a Clever Gang of Swindlers.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 9.—F. J. Heine, superintendent of the Cleveland office of a detective agency, gave out the information tonight that William Duke & Co., the Cleveland brokers, had settled with Allen, Arnold & Co., of Boston, for the Norfolk & Western railroad stock certificate discovered in New York Saturday to be a forgery, paying $4,500, the value of the 50 shares at the present market price of 86.

Mr. Heine said that Duke & Co. were innocent victims of as clever a gang of swindlers as ever operated in this country. The Cleveland detective agency has been working hand-in-hand with New York and Pittsburgh branches to run down the forgers.

The certificate, Heine said, was a forgery from one end to the other, the signatures of seven men on it all being fraudulent. The man who gave his name as A. L. Greene, and who sold the certificate to Duke & Co., Heine said, came here from Pittsburgh last September, and is known to have been here as late as December 5.

POLICE STATION VAUDEVILLE.

Vaudeville, not altogether polite, was given by way of diversion in the Penn avenue police station yesterday morning. The bill was headed by Robert Armstrong, a negro who lately played with the "Rufus, Rastus Johnston" company, and Police Magistrate George A. Moke did the "supper turn." Armstrong got mixed up with strong liquor and was arrested. Upon being arraigned he was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or serve 30 days in the workhouse.

After the other cases were disposed of the prisoner gave an exhibition of legerdemain, sword-swallowing and fire-eating. He sang some songs and then did a clog dance. The magistrate joined with enthusiasm. Dancing is Moke's long suit. When the exhibition was over Armstrong's sentence was cancelled and he left with the best wishes of the magistrate.

START FOR CONFERENCE.

Head of the French Delegation Leaves Paris for Spain—Has a Large Suite.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—M. Revoil, former governor of the Algiers and head of the French delegation to the Moroccan conference at Algeciras, accompanied by a numerous suite, left Paris today for Spain. His departure was the occasion of a notable gathering of officials, including representatives of Premier Rouvier and all the cabinet ministers, M. St. René Taillandier, who was French envoy to Morocco throughout the controversy, and numerous military and civilian officials.

ROME, Jan. 9.—The Marquis Visconti Venosta, head of the Italian delegation to the conference at Algeciras, will leave here tomorrow for Spain. He expects to stop a few hours in Paris and meet Premier Rouvier with whom he maintains friendly relations. The Italian statesman will not discuss the conference.

MEN HAVE WAGES ADVANCED.

Park Employes in Riverview, Allegheny, Made Happy by Getting Money.

The employes of Riverview park, Allegheny, who had received the cheerless news that the appropriation had been exhausted and that they would get no wages for December, January and February, were much relieved yesterday when their wages for December were advanced by A. R. Hamilton of Riverview avenue.

The total amount due was $1,880 50 distributed among 30 men, principally watchmen and laborers. For the purpose of economy the park force has been cut down to the lowest possible point, and Mr. Hamilton, who lives adjoining the park, and who has always taken a lively interest in park affairs, will arrange to advance the employes their money without charge until the new appropriation is available in March.

Striking Boys Create Trouble.

About 200 boys and girls employed by the Underground Cable Company at Sixteenth and Pike streets, struck yesterday against working overtime. Last night a number of boys gathered around the works and made considerable noise. Fearing that they might do some damage by breaking windows, two policemen were sent to the works to disperse them. The police were left on guard all night.

Donora Bridge Bill Presented.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(Special.)—Representative Acheson today introduced a bill extending the time for beginning work on the bridge across the Monongahela river at Donora, Pa., for one year, so that the work need not begin until February 21, 1907.

HILL SAYS HE SAVED MONEY FOR THE CITY

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Twice today John W. Hill, former chief of the filtration bureau, was on the witness stand in his trial on the charge of padding the city estimates for the benefit of contractors, and twice he left after having been drawn into admissions that what he had done was not in accordance with the terms of the filtration contracts.

It was the best day for Hill since the beginning of the trial, but although the defendant told his story in a straightforward manner and showed no hesitancy in his replies, District Attorney Bell was able in cross-examination to shake the strength of the position taken by Hill.

Hill had an astonishing defense. He advanced the claim that he had saved the city $175,000 by granting the contractor permission to use other material than concrete. This was figured out on the basis that the specifications could not have been enforced and that if concrete had been used the city would have been obliged to pay the contractor $204,000.

This contention was made in the face of the ironclad provision of the contract that if the foundation of the clear water basin when uncovered should prove to be unsatisfactory, the contractor must fill in with concrete at his own expense.

Former Attorney General Harmon, who served in President Cleveland's cabinet, was a witness at the afternoon session. He said that he had known Hill for 25 years, and that he knew no one with a better reputation for integrity and honesty. Edwin S. Cramp also testified along this line.

Among the character witnesses who testified was Jesse H. Purdy, general manager of the American Water Works of Pittsburgh.

ENCORES FOR ENGINEERS.

Electricians Are Enthusiastic and Hold Prolonged Meeting.

There were so many encores last night at the meeting of the members of the Pittsburgh branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, in the lecture room of the Carnegie Technical schools, that the discussion was prolonged beyond the closing time of the building. The curtain calls, so to speak, were encouraging to the engineers, because it attested in a marked degree the enthusiasm which was shown. It was a technical discussion of electric railway sub-stations, with numerous and timely observations by telephone engineers and others.

These were the subjects of the papers read: "Sub-Station Location," Clarence Renshaw; "Rotary Converters," E. M. Olin; "The Uses of Storage Batteries in Railway Sub-Stations," L. H. Flanders; "Switchboard Equipment and Automatic Protection," H. W. Peck; "Operation of Sub-Stations," F. Uhlenhart, Jr.; "Signal Devices for Electric Railways," L. H. Thullen.

WILL FURNISH AIRSHIP.

Roy Knabenshue's Manager Does Not Want Wellman to Go to France for His Vessel.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 9.—(Special.)—"If Walter Wellman wants to go to the North pole in an airship, I will furnish him with the airship and aeronaut," says Charles J. Strobel, manager of Roy Knabenshue and Lincoln Beechy, the two young fellows whose work among the clouds has drawn attention.

"I am negotiating with Wellman," continued Strobel, "and hope to bring about the deal. This business of going to France to have Dumont build a ship is all foolishness. I will either build a ship according to Wellman's specifications, or I will build him one which I guarantee to sustain and carry for a given number of days any weight Dumont has offered to transport from Spitzberger to the North pole".

"Sam'l of Posen" Is Under Arrest.

William Hall, known the country over to the police as "Sam'l of Posen," was arrested on a Shady avenue car last night, in Penn avenue, by Detectives Lally and McGough. They saw Hall board a crowded car at the Adams market, near Fourteenth street, and claiming him to be a pickpocket, they arrested him as a suspicious person.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 9.—In his annual message to the legislature Gov. Utter takes up the insurance agitation and cautions the legislature to go slow in enacting restrictive acts.

INTERESTING FACTS

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child.

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claim then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure, and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Temmeister, LaCrosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried, and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for six years, and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. E. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston, Cadillac, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

SENATE EXCITED OVER MOROCCO

Mr. Bacon Wants to Discuss American's Position in Open Meeting.

TILT WITH MR. SPOONER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The propriety of discussing in open senate a resolution introduced by Senator Bacon, calling upon the President for an account of his appointment of delegates to a proposed conference on Moroccan affairs, to be held by European powers at Algeciras, Spain, was considered for four hours today, and then by strict party vote, it was decided that the resolution should be executive business.

Senator Bacon in supporting his resolution, contended for a public discussion and Senator Spooner declared that the adoption of the resolution would be an encroachment by the senate upon the constitutional rights of the President and virtually would charge him, in a manner amounting almost to insult, with ignorance of his duties as chief magistrate.

Offense was taken by Senator Bacon to the remarks of Senator Sponer, the former declaring emphatically that he did not propose to be charged with insulting the President. Mr. Spooner said that he did not mean to imply that it has been an insult to introduce the resolution, but that it would be an affront to the President to adopt a measure which questioned the executive on a matter in which he was well within his own rights.

Insisting that he could not see the distinction, Senator Bacon said that if it would amount to an insult for the senate to adopt the resolution, it would be just as much so for him to offer it.

"I do not understand your logic," replied Senator Spooner, "but if that is your conclusion and you insist upon construing your course as an action of the senate, of course I cannot flinch from the consequence."

The Wisconsin senator's reply ended what had threatened to be a dangerous colloquy, and the debate on the general proposition was resumed.

Spectators were excluded from the senate upon motion of Senator Lodge, who objected to Senator Bacon making a speech on his resolution in open session. Ostensibly it was to settle that plank that the doors were closed, but the merits of the resolution were threshed out so thoroughly that it is unlikely that they will again be gone into. Every Republican senator voted against considering the resolution in legislative session, and Senator Pettus, one of the 10 Democrats present, all of whom voted for consideration in public session, declared that he was opposed to the adoption of the resolution. If called up again it is probable that it will be referred to the foreign relations committee without debate.

In speaking in favor of the public discussion Senator Bacon said that the matter does not involve a treaty and therefore that it was eminently proper to have a public debate on the measure. He said that the public should know just what is proposed by the conference in Spain, and whether the action of the President in naming delegates to participate would involve the United States in a contract to carry out the decision of the conference. He pointed out that the interests of France and Germany in Moroccan affairs are vital and action in favor of the interests of either of these countries would be offensive to the other and that the United States by participating would incur the enmity of the aggrieved country.

MAKING HARD FIGHT AGAINST STATEHOOD

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The fight over the passage of the statehood bill in the house of representatives is still in full blast with both sides claiming victory. This afternoon a meeting of the insurgents was held, at which about 25 insurgent Republicans were present, but Representative Babcock claimed this did not represent anything like the insurgent force. The insurgents say they will have nearly 75 votes against the bill, which with the full Democratic strength would be plenty to defeat it. The administration men admit not more than 35 Republican votes against the bill, and thus, far no very definite estimate of the situation can be made.

It is admitted that the fight of the beet sugar men against the Philippine tariff bill had fallen flat, and that there is little if any chance of defeating it. Representative Cassel of Pennsylvania made a speech against it today, at the conclusion of which he said he would later offer an amendment that, in 1909, when free trade goes into effect, according to the provisions of the bill, the President shall turn over to the Filipino people the full governmental control of the islands.

John Sharp Williams, the Democratic leader, assured Mr. Cassel that he could depend upon the minority to assist him in this amendment of the Philippines. But it is now practically assured that the bill will pass just as it stands, and this much of the strength of the anti-statehood forces is lost. However, the insurgents do not admit defeat by any means, and they are using every effort to round up votes.

Extra Matinee for "The College Widow."

Pittsburgh has taken so kindly to George Ade's comedy masterpiece, "The College Widow," at the Nixon this week, and the sale for the remaining performances has assumed such immense proportions, that the management have decided to give an extra matinee on Friday afternoon. "The College Widow" is one of the few attractions that could easily have remained in Pittsburgh for at least two weeks, being, in fact, the laughing success of the age, but previous bookings made it necessary to limit the engagement to one week only. Hence the necessity of the extra matinee.

Glass Tanks Replace Oak Casks.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9.—The Pfaudler Co., of Rochester, N. Y., has just installed at the Anheuser-Busch brewery 200 of the largest glass enameled steel tanks ever manufactured, at a cost of over half a million dollars.

These tanks weigh 16 tons, are 70 feet long, nine feet in diameter, and hold 1,000 barrels each.

Mr. Adolphus Busch, president of the Anheuser-Busch Company, states that this is the initial shipment and that glass tanks have been found so vastly superior to wooden casks that he has decided to equip all the storing houses with these tanks which will involve an expenditure of several million dollars.

TO IMPRISON THOSE WHO DON'T PAY MEAT BILLS

That Is One of the Objects of Retail Dealers' Association Which Met Last Night.

To imprison a person who does not pay his meat bill, is announced as one of the reforms which the Retail Butchers and Meat Dealers' Protective Association of Allegheny County proposes to institute, if it can secure the enactment of a law that prescribes that penalty.

The association held a mass meeting, followed by an entertainment, last night in the German Beneficial union building in Sixth avenue. The newly elected officers were installed, and in his address President Henry G. Rese set forth the objects of the body.

Besides the enactment of a law to imprison delinquent meat customers, the president stated the aims of the association were to protest against the abuse of wholesale houses selling direct to consumers, individuals, hotels, saloons and restaurants. All members of the association are bound not to buy from wholesalers who sell to consumers.

This is the fifth year of the association and it is composed of about half of the retail meat dealers of the county. Thirty new members joined last night.

MOXEY GETS AID.

Expert Accountant of Philadelphia Assists on Enterprise Bank Report.

To assist in an early completion of the report on the condition of the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny, J. R. Richards of Philadelphia has been sent here to remain until Special Examiner E. P. Moxey closes his engagement at the wrecked bank. The two were at work yesterday and their hope is to have a report ready for United States District Attorney Dunkle some time next week. The latter was asked yesterday when he expected to commence work on the suits that are to be entered against persons known to have been implicated with the late T. Lee Clark in the wrecking of the bank. Mr. Dunkle said:

"There will be nothing done until we have completed the Union bridge case. Mr. Moxey is working on his report and it will be given to me just as soon as it is completed. I cannot say when I shall get the report."

Receiver Thomas Rinaker of the Enterprise bank called upon Controller James Brown of Allegheny yesterday to get a warrant for money assigned him recently by the International Construction Company to cover two notes of the company at the bank aggregating $6,000.

Why Not

Give your heart the same attention you do the other organs?

If your stomach, lungs, liver, kidneys or any other organ is in trouble, refuses to work, you hasten to repair them.

The heart never refuses as long as it has power to move, but continues to do the best it can, getting weaker and weaker, until it is past repair, and then stops. It is just as sick as the other organs, and needs help, but because it will work, you let it.

This is wrong. If your heart is weak, you should take to strengthen your heart and enable it to overcome Dizziness, Palpitation, Short Breath, Faint Spells, Pains in Heart and Side, and all other Heart difficulties.

"I had palpitation of the heart so bad that I would faint away. My doctor recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and it helped me from the start."

Fine Furs at an Average Half.

You may be sure that furs were freely bought here yesterday; furs of all styles, the little neckpieces, the pelerine, the fur coat, the muff. We rather think such fur selling was never before seen in Pittsburg.

Furs at half price are very rare indeed in this city, and ours would not be at the half-price line were it not for the singular weather we've been favored with this Winter, thus scaring the furriers almost to distraction.

Come today and select your furs and enjoy the satisfaction of purchasing something extra nice for about HALF PRICE.

The burgess of West Homestead has imposed the first fines under the state law regulating the operating of automobiles which went into effect with the new year. The penalty was paid by occupants of an automobile which, while exceeding the prescribed speed, ran over a boy, inflicting serious injuries. Owners of automobiles are among those who most firmly approve the new law, which will tend to make followers of the sport more careful.

The resolution introduced in the house by Representative Sheppard of Texas, calling for investigation by a committee of the expulsion of Mrs. Minor Morris from the White House, has been followed by guarded but hostile criticism of President Roosevelt. A partisan press has not been slow in its attempt to make capital out of the incident. The resolution was unnecessary. President Roosevelt needs no spur to do his whole duty and to render justice if wrong has been done to anyone.

Gov. Heyward of South Carolina, in his message to the legislature, calls attention to the scandals attendant on the dispensary administration and passes to the disgrace of lynching. He points with some satisfaction to the better record for last year, but deplores the manifestation of mob violence in recent instances. Gov. Heyward is one of the southern executives who has exerted a good influence on his people in opposition to mob rule and he is entitled to some share of credit for the decrease in lynchings last year.

We print in another column a communication from one of the teachers of Beaver county. This is done as a matter of justice. The report so widely published appears to have been inaccurate and this paper was not at fault. The reported incident was made the text for a semi-humorous editorial in these columns, in which none but correct conclusions were drawn. These, however, were general and without prejudice to the teachers of Beaver county. The Gazette is glad to learn they give due attention to the fundamentals and eschew the fads.

In crediting the average Filipino with a mechanical bent which makes him an adept at running most kinds of machinery, Secretary Taft naturally knows what he is talking about. Native motormen are employed exclusively on the Manila traction lines. Many of the locomotive engineers are also Filipinos. Several natives of the Philippines who came to this country before the war with Spain became expert mechanical engineers earning large salaries. A few more years should witness a wonderful development of the Filipinos as well as the resources of the islands.

England now looks for a peaceable outcome of the Moroccan conference. The rumors of war were to be expected, as were the preparations by France and Germany to defend their frontiers, for these two nations are always on the point, theoretically, of flying at each other's throats. The recent growth of Great Britain's friendship for France will undoubtedly not be overlooked by Germany should it be debating the question of war or peace. In fact it is admitted Foreign Secretary Grey has called the attention of the German ambassador in London to the British purpose to support France.

Speaker Cannon is confronting an insurrection on the statehood and Philippine tariff bills, of more or less formidable proportions. Congressman Babcock avers the Philippine bill is not fair to his sugar beet constituents, though he has favored general tariff revision. In the statehood matter the plaint is New Mexico has a larger population than Arizona, and if they are combined the "greasers" of the former will dominate the "white" adventurers of the latter. This danger is more likely to arouse the ristbilities than the sympathy of congressmen. A more proper objection is that both territories combined have too little population and insufficient proof of capability for self-government.

President Roosevelt's apparent reply to the charges made by Poultney Bigelow in the Independent is proper enough. The President invites searching investigation, but contends matters on the isthmus are progressing favorably. He has grounds for that belief. There are sore spots in the big work and Mr. Bigelow obviously devoted himself to finding them, ignoring the excellent operations in other quarters. The Panama project is as vast as a military operation, without the possibility of military discipline, in every campaign there are genuine causes for complaint—even under Japanese management. The same is true of Panama and will continue to be, though there has been excellent work in organization under difficulties. The Bigelow article has a partisan color, so while it may contain a few useful suggestions it can hardly be construed as being written in helpful spirit.

The Supplemental Call.

Gov. Pennypacker has finally been convinced a supplement to his call for an extra session of the legislature is not in violation of the constitution. Therefore the extension to the special session has been proclaimed. It very properly puts legislation for uniform primaries foremost, with such other changes as may be deemed necessary to safeguard their integrity. Second, to establish a civil service for the improvement and protection of the public service. Third, to designate the uses to which money may be lawfully applied in political campaigns, and finally enlarging the field for the consolidation of municipalities.

These are all subjects of great importance and it will be hoped the legislature will rise to the occasion with superior enactments. Primary election reform and restriction of the uses of money in campaigns are the most vital requisites to full and free expression of the popular will. There is no urgent necessity for modification of the ballot law. One or two changes in that law may be made in the public interest, but these may well await the next regular session. In the last election the people demonstrated their ability to handle the ballot under the present law to secure the precise results aimed at.

Desirability of a civil service system is generally admitted. Competence should be the first requisite in applicants for public position. Once appointed, public servants should be protected from assessment on their earnings for political purposes, and against removal through merely partisan prejudice. The Gazette welcomes the additional subjects for legislation, though it believes no irreparable injury would have been caused by leaving them to the next general assembly. Their addition will make a considerable task for the extra session and if all are intelligently acted on, the legislators will fully earn all of the compensation the law allows to them.

Police Who Earn Their Pay.

Gotham's new commissioner of police, on assuming office the other day, made an address to his men in which he defined the multifarious duties of the good policeman. He said it was not sufficient to capture the criminal; the prevention of crime is an important part of the patrolman's daily work. The officer must also become acquainted with the residents in the vicinity of his beat and aid them in any emergencies that may arise, in addition to the common dangers from burglars and fire. The ideal officer, according to the commissioner, is a sort of "guide, philosopher and friend" to all the men, women and children who come within the jurisdiction of his daily perambulations. But a few days have elapsed since the commissioner preached his sermon to the metropolitan police force, yet one of its members has already followed his advice in a most striking manner. Hearing a disturbance in an apartment house on his beat, a patrolman rushed in and discovered a child in convulsions and its parents, paralyzed by fear, unable to afford any assistance. The policeman promptly administered a hot mustard bath to the child and it soon recovered. Then he turned his attention to the parents, and having revived them and imparted a few words of sage advice on the care of children, resumed his rounds nonchalantly.

It is to be hoped publication of the incident will not have the effect of imposing an additional burden of labor upon the blue-coated guardians of the metropolis. If the commissioner has his way, it may soon be a common occurrence for a policeman to be stopped by a citizen and asked what is good for a cold in the head or the proper treatment for a teething infant. It will be easily seen what this might lead to. While the police were acting as physicians the burglars would be merrily burgling. "Cobbler, stick to thy last," is pretty good advice for those engaged in other businesses than the mending of soles.

Vice and Crime Rampant.

In the office of the superintendent of police and in possession of that official a reporter for the Leader saw yesterday a typewritten list of houses that are used as brothels, and where liquor is sold illegally and where gambling is carried on. It was longer than the liquor license list handed down each year by the court of quarter sessions for the city of Pittsburgh. There are over 500 houses in Pittsburgh devoted to crime—crime that is tolerated by officers of the people who are sworn to enforce the people's laws. * * * The police list is a secret document. It was never intended that it should be seen by other than official eyes, much less by a newspaperman. But the new police chief had not been fully instructed as to this, and when a reporter for the Leader called upon him yesterday to ask about a brothel, of which a complaint had been made, he boldly pulled out his list, consulted it, and the reporter saw enough of it to get a comprehensive idea of the alarming ramifications of crime.—From the Leader of yesterday.

This is a shocking revelation of maladministration in the police bureau. It is surprising, coming from the Leader. Readers of The Gazette have been, in some degree prepared for it because this paper in the past exposed the methods of the former police administration under which these abuses must have grown up. Not so the Leader. Until yesterday it was the consistent apologist for that administration. Compare the quotation preceding, with the following from an editorial in the Leader of October 10, 1905:

Before this was done an attempt was made to convict Wallace of incompetency, but the injustice and viciousness of this device were so palpable that it failed miserably, the only result being to spread abroad false and damaging reports as to the prevalence of vice and crime in Pittsburgh and the consequent panic stricken condition of our people.

In the Leader report yesterday it was alleged these dens of iniquity exist in every ward and every section of the city. The fact is deplored that former wise restriction to certain localities has been abandoned and the whole town is permeated by vice and crime by police toleration. No doubt. But in another editorial on October 10 last the Leader averred the Rev. Dr. McClenahan had been misled by The Gazette into making misstatements on this subject. Continuing it said:

The same authorities ("The Gazette and its associates") told him that the police administration in Pittsburgh is dishonest and incapable, that crime stalks abroad in this city, and that there is need of a return to the best conditions which prevailed when the Flinn ring owned the town, and the doctor—good, easy soul—absorbed this tale, also, and hastened to pour out the vials of his wrath on the heads of the supposed offenders.

Now comes this mendacious Leader to convict itself with a tale of vice and crime worse than Dr. McClenahan denounced. It supports the tale with a secret list kept by the police, of 900 dens of iniquity. Further comment is hardly necessary.

Boosting the Stage.

Worshipers at the shrine of Thespis, who have noted with sadness the steady deterioration of dramatic performances, as expressed by William Winter and other competent critics, will welcome the return to the stage of that sterling actor, Mr. Robert Fitzsimmons, accompanied by his faithful and reconciled spouse. It is also worthy of note that a former colleague of Mr. Fitzsimmons in a striking performance at San Francisco, Mr. Jack O'Brien, is assisting in the elevation of the stage in Gotham. The coincidence suggests the inquiry whether such division of dramatic talent is as effective in the elevating process as would be a union of forces. By burying whatever ill-feeling and professional jealousy may have existed between these two talented gentlemen, a theatrical partnership might be formed that would exceed, in duration at least, the famous coalition of Messrs. Booth and Barrett.

The dissimilarity in literary taste might be alleged as a reason for a speedy end to the partnership, but a judicious compromise would adjust all differences. Mr. O'Brien, as his friends well know, inclines to Ruskin and also likes to have a volume or two of Dickens and Thackeray with him in his study while preparing for one of his famous and forcible debates. He is also an admirer of Democritus, the laughing philosopher. Mr. Fitzsimmons, on the other hand, is an avowed follower of Heraclitus, the weeping philosopher, and prefers tragedy to comedy. He also prefers Laura Jean Libbey to Ruskin. Mrs. Fitzsimmons, it is said, is ambitious to play Lady Macbeth, interpolating one or two popular songs, as she has studied singing abroad. Mr. Fitzsimmons would, of course, play Macbeth, and if Mr. O'Brien would be so obliging, he could play the perfectly lovely part of the gentleman who is murdered. There could be no doubt of the financial as well as the artistic success of this dramatic combination, but would Mr. O'Brien consent to be murdered nightly by his former rival? That is the only disturbing question.

Senators Dick and Foraker of Ohio are reported to have combined to prevent confirmation of a Kentucky man to be consul at Glasgow because an Ohio man is to be displaced. Yet the Constitution gives to the President the power of appointment.

With so much genuine stock to be carried and the money market soaring in the clouds, it is awful to be threatened with a flood of counterfeit stock certificates on margin.

Will Mr. Brennen "on guard" enter into any deal, fusion or alliance with the five Democratic councilmen who are now manipulating the appropriations ordinance?

Gov. Pennypacker's supplemental call ought to please nearly everybody except the legislators, who face a longer session deprived of free transportation.

Two additional stenographers are to be employed at the White House. They will probably be kept replying to letters from fathers of large families.

The fashionable set in Chicago has gone in for coasting. This is the same sport that among the unfashionable is known as "slidin' down hill."

A London paper speaks of "General" Bryan's trip around the world. It is hard for a man to keep his military record in the background.

If war is considered a little too barbarous, the nations may some day agree to decide their differences by football.

It cannot be denied Mr. Rogers has chosen a most polite way of saying: "None of your business."

Chicago's proposed Federation of Pools will hardly need to call on other cities to complete its membership.

As an index to Democratic policy the sub-committee on appropriations is well worth watching.

Ought Not to Smile.

The English have no right to laugh at Rojestvensky for being afraid of their fleet at Wei-hai-wei, which consisted of a second-class cruiser and a dispatch boat. To an admiral who shies at a North Sea fishing smack a second-class cruiser and a dispatch boat must seem very formidable, indeed.—Washington Star.

They Generally Do.

In announcing his candidacy for burgess of West Chester, Charles H. Pennypacker declares that "many people have good intentions," but intimates that good intentions make poor pavements.—Scranton Truth.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

Judge Her by Her Hat, Not What She Has Under It.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Inane, or insane?

This refers to the present fool fashion of women's hats, not directly to the women.

But, really, did you ever see anything sillier since you were born, than the present winter style of hats worn by women? And not by the silly, girly-girly type, but by women of good sense generally, if not particularly.

Think of a dear, delicate creature going out these wintry days with a sheet of fragile gimp and lace pinned to her own real hair, while a coiffure of her own hair by purchase, serves as a sort of windbreak to keep the thing from flying away on the wings of the chilly breezes.

These things, which women are pleased to call hats, are designed, apparently, to catch the chill breeze and cause it to wind itself around her head and neck in frosty coils.

And then, in spite of sundry stiletto like pins, long enough and heavy enough to stab a man to the heart, the victim of the creation, or hat, as it has been dubbed, has to hold it on with one hand—no matter how cold the wind nor how thin the glove.

Besides all this, she, if she is running in the face of the wind, has to lower her head and blindly butt into it, or into anything that happens to be in front of her. If running with the wind she has to rear backward to keep the thing from blowing off over her nose and taking part of her own hair and scalp with it.

It is a sight never to be forgotten to see a smartly-dressed woman navigating a wind-swept street. Navigating an airship would seem to be easy in comparison. Possibly it is this that is encouraging Wellman to make a dash for the pole in some sort of flying machine.

Why not start out a bunch of smart women with creations on their heads, face the north winds and bid old Boreas cut loose a choice persistent polar blast? Once under way they couldn't stop, nor wouldn't unless the creation's holding pins gave way.

An effort was made to shorten sail somewhat by taking a reef or two in the flapper. This gives it the appearance of having been sat upon, or being all puckered up—more inane, if not more insane, than the other.

Reefing, however, has been pronounced a failure, and the flapper champions are out with the announcement that the creations for spring, which are incubating just now, are to be crazier far than anything yet attempted.

And right along side of this announcement in a Memphis paper, appears a petition to that legislature for the extension of the state lunatic asylum to meet present and prospective demands.

The mere fact that these two items of news appear side by side is not proof conclusive that these wonderful creations, called hats, are going to carry the smart set to Bedlam, but unregenerate thinkers, you know, will think even though their thoughts be both idle and vague.

But to return to the question of the hour, Inane or insane? One thing is sure, the hat of the hour isn't a sane device, at least not in the sense of being beautiful, for sane means healthy, and from it we get the good words sanitary—meaning a healthful condition—and insane, meaning without health.

Inane signifies weakness, inability to grasp practical ideas, to think sensible thoughts.

Has the hat question ever been tackled by the many and various women's clubs that are going up and down the land, metaphorically, seeking something to pounce upon and to devour?

It is held by some sociologists, and by some who don't know just what they are, that women's clubs are, as a rule, destructive rather than constructive; that is, they seem to be seeking something to destroy rather than to establish something, or to rescue and to build up something that is worth while.

Were they to settle this hat business on a practical, rational basis, and establish a sensible standard of dress for women, they would do a lot more toward suppressing the white plague than they are doing by agitating the establishment of consumptive camps in the mountains and out of the way country places.

But the ways of women are clean past finding out, don't you think?

If it be conceded that woman is half a century or so behind man a ray of hope becomes visible, for back in the '60s man was a bit foolish in the matter of dress, as will be seen from the following account by one who was there, and written for the New York Post:

"Trousers of English doeskin, broadcloth, or Scotch tweed, in the one case glossy black, and in the other banded with wide horizontal stripes of light or dark colors and fitting somewhat close to the leg, adorned his nether limbs. He wore calfskin boots, also of very thin leather and soles, requiring boot-hooks to pull them on. His coat was either a double-breasted surtout, with velvet collar, a dress coat or claw-hammer, or a sack, with very wide sleeves. His vest was either double-breasted velvet or white silk, dotted with various figures or sprays.

"His great glory was the tooth-pick collar; this, made of fine sheer linen, was very low behind at the back of his neck, but rose rapidly until the two points almost met in front, under his chin. About this lofty collar he wore a huge cravat or handkerchief of silk of whatever colors he affected. The colors were often beautifully blended. It was at least three or four inches wide, and tied in an enormous bow; the tapering or fringed ends projecting out to his shoulders. The silk hat of this dandy was high, and like a truncated flower-pot, the brim was straight.

"I must not forget his hair. This was long, well-oiled or pomatumed, and brushed out at the sides, or curled by the barber in the most elaborate manner. The oiled and brushed out hair, however, came to an end during the civil war. Those who are familiar with Punch can find there the collar, as it was depicted in all the pictures of Mr. Gladstone to the latest one made."

Still We Wonder at Crime.

Statistician says $100,000,000 worth of impure food is consumed annually in the United States, and still good folks wonder at the increase of crime and the sale of whisky.—New York Herald.

HE'S COMFORTABLE THERE.

Oh, home, sweet home! No wonder poets sing
Its charms and its delights, for there one may Safely within its sacred precincts fling
Aside the cares and troubles of the day,
Forget the little things that fret and tease
And taste at last the joys of slippered ease.

There one may go unshaven and unkempt,
And, unreproved, unbuttoned at the vest;
In an old, ragged coat from forms exempt,
And 'gainst that freedom none will dare protest.
If smoke offends, no one will make a fuss,
For well they know you do not care a cuss.

Your elbows on the table you may plant
And no one will remark it but your wife.
There's no occasion to be elegant;
Eat if you will your victuals with your knife;
Drink from your saucer, if it be your wish,
And sop the meaty gravy from the dish.

And if things do not go to suit you quite
You can express yourself and need not pick
Your words at all or try to be polite;
At home a man has got a right to kick.
Yes, it is true—wherever we may roam
There is no place, we find, like home, sweet home.

—Chicago News.

FAMOUS LANDLORD IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Alleged Pool Room Keeper Will Probably Be Dispossessed from His Quarters.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—"The" Allen's landlord is in more trouble. He has submitted while squads of policemen with axes and crowbars on some 70 or more occasions, broke into the building which he owns, smashed the doors and windows, carted off the furniture and arrested all fouud within, alleging that a poolroom was being conducted in the premises. Allen somehow kept out of jail, giving bail when arrested, and usually encountering evidence that failed to convict him. Then he promptly resumed operations at the old stand. Despairing of success in that quarter Isidore Hymes, the owner of the building, which is in Lexington avenue, has been summoned to the Jefferson Market police court today by Capt. Hodgins of the Mercer street station, along with another landlord, Theodore Walters. They were served with notices that proceedings will be begun against them on Friday compelling them to dispossess the tenants in the two places, for running alleged gambling houses and pool rooms. The case was adjourned until Friday for both sides to get evidence and fight the case if desired.

Aldermen Shake Off Tammany.

James Cowden Meyers, the new Republican leader in the board of aldermen, offered a daring plan for control of the board by the Republicans under which the Tammany president of the board, Patrick McGowan, was today stripped of practically all power. Meyers was determined that even if the Hearst men now acting with the Republicans—thus giving the latter a majority control—should break away and side with Tammany the committees shall be so organized that Tammany cannot get possession of them by a reorganization. In giving out the list of the chairmen selected for the important committees, Mr. Meyers announced that the rules to be presented would include one providing that to remove the chairman of or a member of any committee a two-third vote of the whole board shall be necessary. Despite Tammany protests the rule was adopted by a vote of 48 to 21, the Republicans and Municipal Ownership members voting as a unit.

Bishop a Fire Fighter.

Bishop David H. Greer of the Episcopal church, and his son, William, turned fire fighters early today and prevented a serious blaze in their home at 7 Gramercy park. The son discovered the fire in a closet on the ground floor, when he returned home shortly after midnight. He threw a pail of water on the flames, and the bishop, aroused by the noise, joined him and they quickly put out the blaze. To make sure there was no further danger, Bishop Greer telephoned to fire headquarters and engine 16 was sent to the residence. The firemen found nothing remained for them to do. Bishop and Mrs. Doane of Albany were visiting Bishop Greer, but they were not aroused.

Explored a Cake for Diamonds.

Customs officers searching for smuggled diamonds went so far as to dissect two fruit cakes found in the baggage of Charles Roemalt, chancellor of the Belgian consulate, when he landed here today. Nothing but nuts and raisins were disclosed, and the inspector put the cake back in the trunk. Then came some chocolate drops which were sampled. Apparently they did not taste as though they contained diamonds, so they were put back with the cakes. A bag of oranges passed the test, but a little work basket, evidently for a child, came through the ordeal with the lining out open. Mr. Roemalt took the affair good-naturedly. When the agent ran his hand along a paper cylinder containing a paper, Mr. Roemalt, good-naturedly, remarked: "I suppose you want to see that, too," and drew out a paper containing his credentials. When told of the affair, the officials at the Belgian consulate in Worth street laughed and seemed to think that the search of their friend's baggage was an excellent joke. The incident is not apt to be followed by international complications.

Countess Would Avert a Hanging.

Countess Frances Massiglia, wife of the Italian consul in New York, has started for Trenton, N. J., in order to intercede for the life of Antoinette Tolla, who is under sentence of death and is to be executed on Friday in the Hackensack jail. The New Jersey board of pardons, which meets tomorrow, will take up the case. The influence brought to bear to have the death sentence set aside is so strong that there is little doubt it will prove successful. New evidence has been obtained in the case, and it is said to be of such a character that the board will have to grant a new trial. Meanwhile Mrs. Tolla is on the verge of collapse in the Hackensack jail. Dread of the gallows has robbed her of sleep, and she is hysterical the greater part of the time.

LEISHMAN'S FUTURE IS STILL UNSETTLED

Rumors Are Rife Regarding the Change of the Pittsburger to Tokyo.

By L. W. STRAYER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The report that John G. A. Leishman of Pittsburgh, United States minister to Turkey, is to be transferred to another and a more desirable post in the diplomatic service was revived today by the presence in Washington of Augustus N. Eddy and Frank O. Lowden of Chicago. Mr. Eddy is the father of Spencer F. Eddy, secretary of the American embassy at St. Petersburg, who wants to be appointed minister to Turkey in the event of Mr. Leishman's promotion. That he believes such a change is in prospect is shown by the fact that his father and Mr. Lowden came here to see Senator Cullom of Illinois and other influential members and senators about the matter.

So far as can be learned here the state department has no intention of transferring Mr. Leishman to another post. The legation at Tokyo is to be raised to the rank of an embassy and it has been rumored that Mr. Leishman will be offered the first ambassadorship to this oriental court, in view of the fact that Lloyd C. Griscom, the present minister, is to be sent to a South American capital. But friends of Mr. Leishman believe he would scarcely care to take the place at Tokyo, although the promotion to an ambassador would be very flattering. However, Japan is a long way from Paris and the social life there is necessarily very much circumscribed, so that it would not be very attractive to Mr. Leishman's family. For these and other reasons it is believed by many friends of the Pittsburgh man that he would not care to go to the orient, even though it would be an honor to be the first ambassador to the court of the mikado.

At present there are no vacancies actual or prospective in the ambassadorships of Europe, so that it would require a great deal of changing about to make a place for Mr. Leishman.

Anxious to Promote Mr. Leishman.

That President Roosevelt and the state department would like to show their appreciation of Mr. Leishman's services is well known, and for some time this government has been putting forth efforts to have the rank of our representative at Constantinople raised to that of ambassador. But under the rule followed by the United States and laid down by the founders of the government we cannot raise the rank of our representative until the sultan promotes his minister to ambassador, and that Abdul Hamid declines to do. The reason for his refusal is apparent to the state department. Ambassadors are privileged by their rank to approach the person of the sovereign of the state to which they are accredited, and therefore when they cannot obtain a satisfactory solution of questions at issue at the foreign office they may take them direct to the sultan. This cannot be done by ministers. They have not the privilege of direct personal communication with the sovereign and can only bring official matters to his attention with his consent and at his pleasure.

Many Questions to Settle.

A great many of the questions with which the American minister has to deal relate to the settlement of claims for damages growing out of the destruction of mission property, interference with the rights of American citizens sojourning in Turkey, etc. Therefore, it can readily be seen that the sultan would not care to increase the list of ambassadors at his court, as by so doing he would only add to his official worries. Ministers who have to deal with the Turkish government through the foreign office can be put off indefinitely with promises and excuses, but ambassadors who may bring their business to the personal attention of the sultan are not so easily sidetracked. This explains why the sultan of Turkey does not care to have the rank of American minister raised to that of ambassador. Mr. Leishman's service at Constantinople has been very successful and President Roosevelt has promised to reappoint him.

Eddy's Long Service.

Spencer F. Eddy, who aspires to the Constantinople mission, has served as private secretary to the ambassador to Great Britain, clerk in the state department, third secretary of the embassy at London, second secretary of the embassy at Paris, secretary of the legation at Constantinople, and on September 8, 1903, he was appointed to his present position, secretary of embassy at St. Petersburg. He is to be married soon to Miss Lurline Spreckels, daughter of Augustus Spreckles of San Francisco, a young lady who is heiress to many millions, and a post like that at Constantinople would be especially attractive to him under these circumstances.

However, if Mr. Leishman should be transferred to another capital, it is doubtful if Pennsylvania senators and representatives would give up the Constantinople position without a struggle. They would likely look upon it as properly Pennsylvania patronage and they would have no trouble in finding a man willing to take it. Hon. H. Kirke Porter of Pittsburgh is understood to desire a diplomatic position, and he would likely be a candidate for the appointment.

A Correction.

To the Editor of The Gazette.

I do not think it right to permit such a misconception regarding the spelling test of Beaver county teachers to remain without contradiction.

The statement as given by your paper are incorrect and misleading. The actual facts are as follows: At a liberal estimate about 30 of the county teachers, in order to keep the instructor from the unpleasant sensation of having no response to his request, wrote the words of the list, which has been given. Very few misspelled until the final word, "desiccated." Probably some of these would not have done so had not the instructor jovially asserted: "This is where I catch you all," thereby creating a doubt in the minds of some as to the correctness of their word image. Mark the difference. Possibly 30 participants, not 350, more than half of which number spelled correctly until the last word.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

When the lad ran out to the Pennsylvania limited with a couple of messages for passengers on the train at Union station last night he was accorded a new privilege—that of going through the train to call out the names of those for whom he carried messages. This is something the Pennsylvania has refused to allow heretofore. Allowing telegraph messengers to canvass the trains in case the persons wanted were not right at hand is a custom that has been in vogue on the New York Central lines and several other large systems for some time, and the telegraph companies have at last succeeded in getting the Pennsylvania to allow such service for the good of the patrons. In case the messenger is unable to find the person he wants before the train is ready to leave, the conductor signs for the message and delivers it after the train is on its way if the addressee can be found; otherwise at the end of the run the telegram is returned to the sending office. Travelers on the through trains will appreciate this service, as will many Pittsburghers who receive telegrams while traveling east or west on the Pennsylvania system.

Millionaire as a Civic Worker.

John Stevenson, Jr., the multi-millionaire manufacturer and citizen of Sharon, Pa., is registered at the Schenley while visiting Pittsburgh on business matters. Mr. Stevenson is just now one of the most interesting citizens of Western Pennsylvania. This interest centers in his being a candidate for the office of school director. He does not allow his large financial and manufacturing interests to interfere with his duties as a citizen, and his civic spirit in this respect might well be emulated. Should Mr. Stevenson be elected to the Sharon school board, as will doubtless be the case, this board will contain two of the most notable members in the county, for, in addition to Mr. Stevenson, Alexander McDowell, clerk of the house of representatives at Washington, has been a member for the past 35 years. Stevenson's large manufacturing interest is in the Driggs-Seabury Ordnance corporation, which manufactures cannon and equipment for the government.

WILL MAKE PUBLIC NAMES OF BOARDS

Chairman Leslie Will Tell Public Who Is to Count Votes at Saturday's Primaries.

REFUSES MAGEE'S DEMAND

W. A. Magee, a candidate for the Republican mayoralty nomination, yesterday afternoon made a demand on City Chairman Leslie for a list of the Republican primary election officers. His request was refused. Last night Magee discussed the matter in a speech delivered in the Twenty-first ward and Leslie issued a statement. He promises the names of the election officers will be made known not later than Friday morning.

Magee in his speech said he had heard of frequent attempts to have election officers, who happened to be his friends, pulled down and others put up. There are 750 election officers in the city who will have charge of the count of the vote at Saturday's primaries. "I wanted to know the names of these men," said Magee. "If any of them are to be changed, I want it done as the rules provide. This afternoon at 3 o'clock I applied to Chairman Leslie for a list and was refused. He told me I was interfering with his prerogatives.

Message from Leslie.

"At 5 o'clock Mr. Leslie telephoned me that while he would not give me the list, he would agree to publish it in the morning papers of Saturday. I wanted it printed tomorrow, but he said that 750 names could not be copied in time. He also told me he was preparing a statement for the public showing the rights of all candidates would be safeguarded in the primaries. It will do no good to publish these names on the day of the primary. We should know now who is the count our votes."

Last night Chairman Leslie issued this statement concerning the demand of Magee:

Just as soon as the list can be completely made up I will furnish for publication in the newspapers the names of all who will serve as election officers at the primaries next Saturday afternoon. Included in this list will also be the names of all the inspectors and supervisors appointed at the request of the two candidates for the nomination for mayor. I will not furnish a list of election officers to any candidate, but will gladly supply it for the information of the public, especially the Republican voters.

May Be Printed Tomorrow.

I hope that this list can be completed in time for publication on Thursday. If not, it will certainly be ready for publication on Friday. It is also my intention to call public attention between now and Saturday to the ample provisions against fraud contained in the Republican city rules, which provisions will be rigidly enforced at the primaries on Saturday.

The Magee meeting was held in Orpheus hall. The auditorium was packed. N. F. Savage presided, and speeches were made by Magee, A. H. Rowand, E. E. Cotton, W. D. Grimes and Capt. John A. Read. In his speech Magee gave a number of instances of attempts which he says have been made to take his supporters from him. He also said the suggestion meeting in the Twenty-first ward was not held in accordance with the rules. He says the appointment of a committee to make nominations is not in harmony with the party law. The meeting adopted resolutions denouncing the alleged improper methods employed. It was announced that candidates suggested at the second meeting held Saturday night would be voted for at the Saturday primaries.

Statements were yesterday issued in support of A. M. Jenkinson's candidacy for the Republican mayoralty nomination by Elmer E. White, James W. Mills, R. R. Brown, T. C. Jenkins, F. N. Kendoff, William D. Hartupee and A. G. MacConnell. Jenkinson spent a busy day meeting voters. Last night he attended meetings of several ward committees.

Twentieth Ward Candidates.

The Twentieth ward Republican committee last night received the letter of Citizens Councilmen Helmold, Roenigk and Hammer declining to permit their names to be submitted to the voters at the Republican primaries on Saturday. This ended the controversy. The men who will enter the primaries follow: Common council, William G. Leggett, Joseph C. Wasson, Dr. R. L. Taylor, Louis Hirsch, William A. Roberts and Rev. Joseph P. McKee; school directors, John H. Mellors and William M. Hall, Jr.; ward assessors, Edwin G. Diehl and James H. Hargrave.

At a Republican suggestion meeting in the Second ward, Wilkinsburg, last night, the following candidates were named: For council, Jacob Weinman, the incumbent; school director, W. H. Morrison and A. G. Corns. A borough suggestion meeting will be held tonight to name a burgess, auditor and tax collector. The Third ward will also suggest candidates.

The Homestead Democrats yesterday decided to put a full borough ticket in the field, and the following were named as candidates: Burgess, T. H. D. Eckels; auditor, W. H. Lacy; tax collector, Felix O'Neil.

Harvey S. Welsh, Jesse H. Rodgers, Albert Young, W. A. Signet, Jr., Anderson Lytle and Thomas H. Taylor have patented the name Peoples party for East McKeesport.

Charles Heminhouse, James Orr, Edward Strott, P. Pazanneci and Frank Nardozza have patented the name Citizens party in the Third ward, Pittsburgh.

Want Chance to Fuse.

The Citizens executive committee of the Fourteenth ward last night authorized the ward chairman, M. J. Ehrenfeld, to appoint a committee of five to confer with other parties regarding a fusion ticket in the ward and report back to a meeting to be held next week. The committee follows: E. M. Kinzer, E. D. Wilt, Jacob T. Blinder, David Lewis and John Smith.

A large mass meeting of the Independent party of the Fourteenth ward was held at the Bellefield school last night. W. J. Moore presided, and among the speakers was William H. Stevenson. A resolution indorsing George W. Guthrie for mayor was adopted and a committee was authorized to confer with other parties regarding a ward ticket. It has not been named.

The Seventeenth ward will hold no primaries for ward officer on Saturday. It was decided last night that only primaries will be held for the mayoralty candidates. At the meeting of the ward committee last night William Brand and Hugh Ferguson qualified for common council. Edward Davidson and Lewis R. Keech for school directors.

The following persons named at the Eighteenth ward Republican suggestion meeting on Saturday have qualified: Select council, P. J. Donahue, Max C. Linn; common council, Harry B. Miller, J. Reese Frye; school directors, Otto Reibling, Charles Atalgren.

SCHUCK PROBABLY ELECTED.

Extremely Light Vote Is Cast at Special Election in Westmoreland County.

GREENSBURG, PA., Jan. 9.—(Special.)—An extremely light vote was cast at the special election to elect a successor to the late Assemblyman Joseph B. Heister. C. L. Schuck of Monessen, Republican, is regarded as an easy winner. He polled a big vote in the Monongahela valley, and in the coke region.

In many of the country districts the total vote polled comprised the election officers, committee men and constable who were paid for attending. Frank J. Harvey of Latrobe was the Democratic candidate, and Barton H. Townsend of Vandergrift was the Prohibition party nominee.

Republican Club Elects Officers.

The Afro-American Republican club of North Braddock met last night and elected the following officers: E. C. Brown, president; J. T. Wenzer, Jr., vice president; W. W. Jackson, secretary; Finley Standfield, assistant, and Alexander Tombs treasurer.

MINISTER CANDIDATE FOR DELINQUENT TAX COLLECTOR

The Rev. Nathaniel Preston Kerr.

One of the oldest and best-known ministers in the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. N. P. Kerr, is a candidate for the office of delinquent tax collector for the borough of Oakmont. So far he has no opposition. Mr. Kerr was born in Freedom, Pa., in 1835, and educated in Mt. Union and Beaver colleges. He has been a minister in the Pittsburgh conference for 40 years. In 1891 he founded the Methodist Episcopal church in Oakmont and was its pastor until 1894.

KIRKBRIDE WINS IN LEGISLATIVE FIGHT

Charles E. Kirkbride, Republican, of the Sixth ward, was elected to the state legislature in the Second district yesterday. His opponent was Victor E. Paulin, Democrat. Because of the predominance of Republican sentiment on the North Side, the Democrats put up no fight, realizing their candidate had no hope of winning. Kirkbride's majority will be considerably less than 1,000, as the vote was perhaps the lightest on record. The Second legislative district comprises the Second, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and Fifteenth wards. With nine districts still to be heard from Kirkbride carried 35 and Paulin 2, Kirkbride getting 937 and Paulin 311 votes. Kirkbride goes to the legislature to take the place vacated by John Francies, who resigned to become postmaster of Allegheny. The vote by districts is as follows:

OWNERSHIP OF COUNTY CLERKS TO BE SETTLED

County Will Decide Whether Tax Board Gets Commissioners' Transcribing Force.

The county commissioners yesterday formally declined to turn over its force of transcribing clerks to the board of tax assessment and revision. The matter will now get into the courts for settlement.

When the tax board was organized it was thought it had the right to take over the commissioners' transcribing force. The commissioners had the law examined and decided there was considerable doubt about the matter. Yesterday the tax board and commissioners held a conference. A formal demand was made and the commissioners refused to surrender its claim to the transcribing clerks. The tax board will now ask the salary board, which in this case will be composed of the county commissioners, controller and the three tax commissioners, to grant it a sufficient number of clerks to do the work of transcribing the tax books. The answer of the salary board will open the way for a court decision on the question of the ownership of the transcribing force now employed by the commissioners.

SHONTS WILL NOT QUIT THE CANAL COMMISSION

Will Not Resign Because of Any Drubbing He Receives from Press or Congress.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Today Chairman Shonts of the canal commission was very emphatic in his declaration that he would not resign from the commission and the canal work, because of anything which Secretary Taft said in his letter to the President, accompanying the annual report of the commission.

Then the question was asked: "And in the meantime you will not mind a little drubbing from the press, or from congress?"

"No, sir," was the reply. "I took up this job with the idea of carrying it through, and I intend to carry it through. If I am drubbed it will be because I make mistakes, just as any other man makes mistakes, and I hope to profit by the drubbing. In the meantime, I shall do my best not to deserve any drubbing."

BOYS MUST NOT SMOKE.

Duquesne Garden Management Will Stop Sale of Cigarets.

The Allegheny County W. C. T. U. yesterday referred a report that cigarets were being sold to young boys at Duquesne garden, to the East End branch for investigation.

Manager McSwiggan said last night that boys were not permitted to smoke cigarets in the building. At the entrance to the smoking room there is a large sign warning them of this order.

Last Saturday two boys were ejected for smoking cigarets. The concessionarie who has the tobacco privilege in the garden will not sell cigarets after his present stock is disposed of.

Physician's Attempt Succeeds.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Dr. Robert W. Steger, who was found last night unconscious in his room at the Audubon hotel, died today at Bellevue hospital. He drank a mixture of chloroform and morphine. The reason he gave for self-destruction was that he had had frequent attacks of homicidal mania.

PAYROLL IS GIVEN ORDERS FOR LOGAN

CITY HALL CROWD SPLITS

Employes in the Allegheny public works department and some of the police lieutenants got orders yesterday to work for George B. Logan, the Good Government party candidate for mayor. The report is the whole payroll will be instructed before the end of the week. Mayor Wyman is credited with being responsible for this peculiar political shift, and North Side politicians are trying to figure it out in some plausible way.

According to Dr. Samuel S. Woodburn, campaign manager for Logan, neither he nor any of his political associates has had any dealings with Wyman or any one acting for him. Woodburn is emphatic in giving assurance that Wyman has been promised nothing, and Mr. Logan declares he has made no deals and will make none. He cannot understand why Wyman should instruct the payroll in favor of the Good Government party, unless the intention is to inject a little comedy into an otherwise quiet campaign.

Mr. Logan's name will likely head the column of the Citizens party. The latter is owned and patented by 'Squire Ed Braun and Joseph Stewart. These two, after being convinced that the Church federation would not take up Stewart, decided that Logan was the man of their choice. So Stewart has laid aside his ambition for the present and he and his sponsor will turn in for Candidate Logan.

In the new headquarters at 10 North Diamond street the executive committee of the Good Government party met yesterday afternoon. They had an unusual question to settle. This was the application of City Solicitor Stephen G. Porter for admittance into the Good Government party. Porter wanted to become an active figure in the new organization, to take the stump and be a campaign orator. His offer was declined with thanks. Dr. Woodburn was asked about this last night.

"Porter wanted to come into the party and be a feature right away. He wanted to go on the platform and get into the business in earnest. But we decided we did not need him," said Woodburn.

"What did Porter ask or expect in return for his services?" was asked.

"I do not know," replied Woodburn.

Delinquent Tax Collector Harry M. Davidson has declared for Charles F. Kirschler, and will work for Kirschler in the Second ward. It has been reported for several days that Director Scandrett had decided to get into the Kirschler procession, but he has made no definite announcement, and his position is in doubt now that Mayor Wyman is said to be for Logan. It is said Scandrett and Wyman will be found together in the fight, if they can get into it at all.

Director McIlvaine said yesterday he had given no orders to those in his department yet, but intended to do so very soon. This information came from the director early in the day, before the other report concerning the orders for Logan was whispered about.

Several of the police lieutenants were called to Wyman's business office at 8 North Diamond street, next door to the Logan headquarters, during the afternoon, and were with the mayor for some time. It is said they were told to start a Logan propaganda in the police ranks.

Maj. H. K. Tyler, who is making an independent fight, is preparing a letter to be sent broadcast through the city that is said will be of startling character.

The Democrats will name the candidate of their choice early next week, perhaps immediately after the Republican convention on Monday morning, at which time Charles F. Kirschler will be nominated.

FOREIGN MISSIONARY RALLY IN THE EAST END

Pastors and Congregations of All Christian Churches in Pittsburgh District to Participate.

Beginning at 10 o'clock next Monday morning and continuing till noon, resuming at 2 and closing at 4 p. m., a foreign missionary rally will be held in the East End Christian church, participated in by all the Christian churches in the Pittsburgh district. Addresses will be delivered as follows:

Introductory, Secretary Rains, Cincinnati, O.; "Go! and Lo!" T. A. Bright, Waynesburg; "A Plea for Our Plan," F. A. Cole, Washington, Pa.; "Our New Obligations," Wallace Tharp, Allegheny; "Faith and Faithfulness," O. R. Phillips, Braddock; "Preparations for the March Offering," C. M. Watson, Connellsville; "Save the Church by Saving the World," W. S. Rounds, Crafton; "The Development of a Missionary Conscience," G. W. Watson, Pittsburgh; "Do Foreign Missions Pay?" George E. Jones, Pittsburgh; "The Gold Basis for Foreign Missions," A. W. Place, Avalon; "The Call of God to Advance," M. J. Grable, Steubenville, O.; "My Work in China," Mrs. Lily W. Molland, Nankin, China; "Prayer and the Kingdom," R. W. Aberly, Cincinnati, O.

The addresses will be interspersed with appropriate music and prayer.

REFORM IN NEW JERSEY.

Governor Calls for Correction of Laws Which Permit Over-Capitalization.

Fight for Speakership.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 9.—The 130th session of the New Jersey state legislature opened today. The most interest centered in the attitude of the Colby-Fagan Republicans in the house, who put up Austin Colgate as their candidate for speaker against Samuel K. Robins, the regular Republican nominee. Robins was elected.

Gov. Stokes in his message advocates the granting of limited franchises, urgently recommends legislation to remedy what he describes as the evil of over-capitalization. Public utility corporations should report to some state official as to the cost of constructing and extending trolley lines, water, gas, electric light and telephone plants, or pipe lines, and bonded indebtedness and capitalization could then be made upon this basis.

Kubelik and His Pleasing Programs.

Kubelik, the renowned Bohemian violin virtuoso, who is to appear at the Pittsburgh Carnegie Music hall next Saturday afternoon, in making his American concert tour this season is presenting programs arranged to suit all tastes. For those who love the severely noble classics he plays the Beethoven concerto, a composition in which Kubelik perhaps displays his deepest musical feeling and his greatest purity and breadth of tone. The Mendelssohn concerto, in which the artist reveals his subtle interpretive powers, is played frequently. Kubelik's mastery of harmonics, double stopping and other of the physical difficulties of his instrument, are said to be little short of marvelous.

Pittsburgh Orchestra Popular Concert.

There has been a great demand for seats for the popular concert the Pittsburgh orchestra, Emil Paur, conductor, will give at Old City hall on Friday evening. Less than a hundred of the 50-cent seats remain to be sold. The 25-cent seats can be bought now at Hamilton's. The soloists will be Henry Bramsen, violincellist, and Marta Sandal-Bramsen, soprano. The latter will sing five Norwegian songs in the native language.

BULLET ENDS A BROKER'S LIFE

L. W. Prior, Member of a Well-Known Cleveland Firm, Commits Suicide.

COMPANY IS INVOLVED

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 9.—Leland W. Prior, one of the best known men in financial circles in Cleveland, and junior member of the stock brokerage firm of Denison, Prior & Co., shot and killed himself in a room at the Hollenden hotel, this afternoon. In taking his life Mr. Prior fired three bullets from a revolver, two of which passed through his head. Shortly after noon, N. B. Hasbrouck, of the firm, called to see Prior. They had a long talk. They sat in Prior's room, and Hasbrouck, evidently, made efforts to rouse Prior from his nervousness. Mr. Prior was about 45 years of age, married and had two children. He was a member of the New York stock exchange.

The firm of Denison, Prior & Co. was one of the heaviest dealers in stocks and bonds in the central west. Mr. Prior has been foremost in financing a number of large brewery consolidations in Ohio and in other states. In order to protect financial interests it was decided to put the firm's affairs in the hands of a committee. Charles E. Denison, senior member of the firm was in Cleveland today, having come from Boston, where he lives. Since the organization of the firm of Denison, Prior & Co., Denison has lived in the east and has had entire control of the eastern bond business of the firm. He says he has had nothing to do with the management of the company's office in this city.

In a statement given out tonight, Mr. Denison says: "I realize the importance of having the affairs of my firm administered in the best interests of creditors and debtors alike, and being wholly unacquainted with the Cleveland branch of the business, I have ordered the business closed and requested a committee, consisting of H. R. Newcomb, Gen. George H. Garretson, H. P. McIntosh, E. G. Tillotson and John Sherwin, to assist me in making a thorough and complete investigation of the affairs of my firm, and, with me, will at once proceed to do as above outlined. In due course we will make a complete report to all persons interested. Creditors and debtors alike may rest assured that during the time this investigation is being made, I will permit nothing to be done pertaining to the affairs of the firm except under the advice of this committee, and every effort will be made to protect the rights of all persons as they exist today. I believe it will be found that large stock transactions were the cause of Mr. Prior's act."

It is understood by persons acquainted with the amount of business done by the firm of Denison, Prior & Co., that it is involved in the stock market to the extent of at least $500,000.

SEAMAN WAS A SANDOW.

An English Sailor of Perfect Physical Development Killed by a Train.

A man supposed to be J. H. Langley, evidently an English sailor, was killed by a train on the Junction railroad at Thirty-third street about 6:30 o'clock last night. He was about 28 years old and a man of remarkable physical development.

There were a number of discharge papers found on him, among them one received January 1 at New York, showing that he was employed as a fireman on the American line steamer St. Louis. His papers show he was born at Moreton-on-Trent, and his nearest friend is Mrs. Wilkinson, 83 Martin street, Stafford, London, east. It is supposed he was working his way to the lakes. He wore a sweater with the word "Seaman" across the breast.

The coroner's jury yesterday held Mary Daudner, a Hungarian, of Springdale to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder of her infant daughter, who was one day old. The body was found by County Detectives Reed and Sonnefeld buried in the cellar of the woman's home, at Springdale, on December 22. The woman said the child died a natural death, but Dr. W. H. Weber denied the woman's story after making a post-mortem examination.

Charles Gunche, aged 28, of Dravosburg, died last night at the Allegheny General hospital of injuries received while at work on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, December 28.

Mrs. Ellen Campbell, aged 63, of 850 Vista street, Allegheny, died in a peculiar manner at her home yesterday morning. The woman went to the cellar with a kettle of hot water to thaw out a water pipe. Later Mrs. Margaret Donahue found her at the foot of the stairs with her head caught between the lower step and the railing. It was thought she had strangled to death, but she died from heart disease, and in falling her head caught in the lower step and railing.

The unknown man who was killed by a train on the Ft. Wayne railroad Monday at Avalon was identified at the morgue yesterday as W. G. Garner, a flagman on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad. He was 35 years old and lived at Mogongahela City.

Ready for Vassar Students' Benefit.

The matinee benefit at the Nixon for the Vassar Students' Aid society this afternoon will be a prominent social event. The boxes have all been taken for the occasion. Mrs. F. F. Lovejoy, Mrs. Charles D. Armstrong and Mrs. W. W. Blackburn being added to the original list of box-holders. Several luncheons and breakfasts have been planned to precede the matinee, while throughout the theater parties will be entertained by the different patronesses. Mrs. Omar Scott Decker, with a party of friends, will occupy the box purchased by Mrs. Robert Pitcairn, who will not be in attendance, as she is in mourning.

More Typhoid and Measles.

Seven cases of typhoid fever, six of scarlet fever, two of diphtheria, nine of measles and three of pneumonia were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday.

DEATHS IN NEARBY TOWNS.

NEW CASTLE—Mrs. Jennie M. Lutton, widow of Charles W. Lutton, died at her home here today, aged 46.

NEW CASTLE—James Lawler, aged 67, died here today. He was born in Ireland, but lived here 50 years. He was a member of St. Mary's church and of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of this city. His wife died seven years ago, and he leaves three children—Patrick Lawler and Mrs. James Conners of this city, and Mrs. Barney McAleer of Braddock.

GREENSBURG—David Allshouse, aged 74, died at the home of William Bender, Hempfield township, this morning. He was unmarried. He leaves one sister, Mrs. Samuel Alwine of Greensburg.

EAST LIVERPOOL—Mrs. Ruth Chapman Smith, widow of John Smith, died this morning aged 87. She was one of the oldest residents of this vicinity. She was the mother of 12 children, of whom six survive.

WARREN—George Lewis, a well-to-do farmer of West Farmington, was discovered in an unconscious condition in his buggy between West Farmington and Middlefield Monday afternoon, and died a few hours later. Paralysis is given as the cause of his death. He was 68 years old and was known throughout the Western reserve as a cattle buyer.

CUMBERLAND, MD.—John Carroll, aged 81, died at his home in Crafton, W. Va., yesterday after an illness of several months. He was a native of Ireland, but came here 55 years ago. He was employed by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company as track foreman at Altamont for 47 years, being railred by the age limit. He is survived by four daughters.

CUMBERLAND, MD.—Samuel H. Rawlings, aged 50, a well-known slater and lifetime resident of Cumberland, dropped dead last night at about 11 o'clock at his home. He is survived by his widow, two daughters and one son.

Healthy South Side.

During the months of November and December there were 753 cases of typhoid fever reported by physicians all over the city to the Pittsburgh bureau of health. Only 22 of these cases were from the 18 wards of the South Side, which get their water supply from the Monongahela Water Company.

Evidently the South Side is being discriminated against, and the East End, as usual, gets it all nearly.

In regard to all of which an official of the Monongahela Water Company says: "Comment is unnecessary."

Wray, and Instructor of Work William B. Josiyn, all of Philadelphia. The lodge will be christened New Castle lodge No. 812, F. and A. M., and opens with 19 charter members. The officers are: Worshipful master, Harry K. Gregory; senior warden, Edgar E. Seavy; junior warden, John S. Oursler; secretary, Edward L. Smith; treasurer, Clare P. DuShane; chaplain, Charles Greer; stewards, A. Martin Graham and J. Adam Hainer, Jr.; trustees, Frank H. Wells, Addison C. Dickenson and Ford Brandon.

SECRETARY TAFT REDUCING FLESH BY EXERCISE AND DIET

By Pursuing This Regimen He Has Lost Twenty Pounds and Hopes to Bring His Weight Down to 250.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—In the face of all his troubles with the Panama canal, with the Philippines and the threatened anti-foreign outbreak in China, Secretary Taft still finds consolation in the fact that he is reducing his weight which from a personal standpoint, is most important.

"Three months ago I weighed 314½ pounds, and today I weigh only 294½ pounds. I would have found out my exact reduction long ago if it were not that most of the scales around here are made for boys and not full-grown men."

He explained the method which he is pursuing for the reduction of weight, one which is all right for any save those who have a tendency toward rheumatism.

"Six ounces of meat for breakfast with a lot of bran biscuit and coffee with milk or sugar. For lunch four ounces of lean meat. For dinner five ounces of lean meat and four ounces of fish. In all this no bread, no beans except string beans, no peas, no squash, except summer squash; plenty of succulent vegetables like celery and lettuce, but no oil in my salad dressing. And some exercises that make me look ridiculous to all who see me doing them."

By pursuing this regime the secretary hopes to reduce his weight to 250 pounds.

The Death Roll.

Sebastian Englert.

Sebastian Englert, aged 82, father of County Detective John Englert, died yesterday at the home of his son, George Englert, 913 Enterprise street, McKeesport, from tuberculosis. For 11 years he conducted a hotel in McKeesport, but had retired. He was born at Bryo, Germany, and came to this country in 1865, locating in Pittsburgh. In 1874 he became a resident of McKeesport, then a village, and for a number of years was employed at the W. Dewees Wood mill. He was twice married, his first wife having died about 12 years ago. He is survived by his second wife and nine children: George, John, Joseph, Carl, Mary, Emma, Matilda of McKeesport, Fred of Glassport and William of Sutter. One brother and two sisters living in Germany also survive.

Mrs. Anna Wharton.

Mrs. Anna Wharton, a school teacher of North Braddock, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hinderer, 142 Bell avenue. She was born in Johnstown 41 years ago. The family came here in 1874, when the Edgar Thomson steel works was built. After completing her education Miss Hinderer taught in the Braddock schools. Eighteen years ago she became the wife of William Wharton, a steel worker. He died 15 years ago, and after straightening up her affairs, Mrs. Wharton became the teacher of the primary grade in the B. H avenue school, North Braddock, which position she filled for 14 years. She was a member of the First United Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Anna May Hein.

Mrs. Anna May Hein, aged 79, is dead at her late home, 1251 Caughey street, McKees Rocks. She was born in Germany, but had lived in this vicinity for more than half a century. Her husband was the late J. A. Hein, who died five years ago after having farmed in Robinson and Stowe townships for nearly 50 years. Mrs. Hein was a member for many years of the St. Mary's Roman Catholic church of McKees Rocks. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John Marcher of Chartiers township, and Mrs. Mary Hellman of McKees Rocks; three sons, John K. of Charleroi, Andrew and Anton J. at home. Thirteen grandchildren and one great grandchild also survive.

Howard A. Hoffman.

Howard A. Hoffman, foreman of letter carriers at the Pittsburgh postoffice, died yesterday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Jennie Hoffman, 234 Hazelwood avenue. He was born October 13, 1854, and was educated in the local schools, graduating from the High school. For a number of years Mr. Hoffman was a mail clerk between this city and Cincinnati and St. Louis. He was treasurer of the Clerks' association and a member of the I. O. O. F., treasurer of Hazel Glenn lodge and scribe of Glen Hazel encampment. He was grand marshal of the State Grand encampment for 1904-1905.

Mrs. James Collins.

Mrs. Anna E. Collins, wife of James Collins, died Monday night at her home in Oil City. She was born in Kittanning and moved to Oil City in 1877. Mr. Collins was one of the oldest conductors on the Allegheny Valley railroad, beginning service when the road was built. He retired a few years ago and became agent at Logans Ferry. Her husband, two sons, Thomas and Emerson, and one sister, Mrs. Robert Templeton of Oakmont, survive. The body will arrive in this city this afternoon at 12:25 o'clock and the interment will be in Allegheny cemetery.

Mrs. John L. Suefert.

Mrs. Anne Barbara Suefert, aged 57, is dead at her home, 227 Evergreen avenue, Millvale. Mrs. Suefert was born in Germany, being the daughter of the late Paul and Margaret Sheirer. She came to this country in 1876, settling in Philadelphia, and came to Millvale 12 years ago. She was a member of St. Paul's Evangelical church of Allegheny, and is survived by her husband, John Leonard Suefert, and six children: Mrs. Anna Swartz and Mrs. Margaret Schibe of Allegheny; John G., Otto F., Conrad G. and Elizabeth Suefert. Five grandchildren also survive.

M. M. Javens.

M. M. Javens, aged 54, died Monday at his home in Bridgewater. He was a son of Capt. Henry Javens, in his day one of the best-known pilots on the river. M. M. Javens was educated in the Bridgewater schools and his earliest occupation was steamboating between Pittsburgh and Oil City. Later he was associated with John Stiles in business. In 1899 deceased entered the photographing business in this city. His widow and two sons survive.

John C. Davis.

John C. Davis, formerly in business at 423 Smithfield street, died yesterday at his home in Boline, Kimball county, Tex. He was in business in this city for 42 years, when failing health compelled him to seek a milder climate, and for the past two years he lived in Texas. His widow, Mrs. Burdette Shepherd Davis, and four children, survive.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Michael Fallon, aged 57, of Glassport, died at her home yesterday after an illness of a year and a half. She is survived by her husband and three adult children, Michael, John and Mahlie. She was a member of St. Cecelia's Roman Catholic church.

George C. Smith, a well-known resident of Castle Shannon, died Monday at his home. He was born in Castle Shannon 65 years ago and had lived the greater part of his life there. In 1884 he married Nancy McRoberts, who survives him with the following children: Richard L., Mrs. Eleanor J. Neeld, Sarah H., Ida and William. He was a member of the St. Clair Presbyterian church. Mr. Smith's family were early settlers in St. Clair township.

MAHON CANDIDATE FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

The Chambersburg Congressman Says He Is in a Receptive Mood.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Hon. Thaddeus M. Mahon of Chambersburg, representative in congress from the Seventeenth Pennsylvania district, is a candidate for the nomination for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket. The announcement was made today by Mr. Mahon, who classed himself as a receptive more than an aggressive candidate. A number of men prominent in Grand Army circles in various parts of the state have written to him urging him to become a candidate, and he has assurances of strong support from the veterans of the civil war.

Col. Daniel C. Ashworth of Pittsburgh is pushing his claims for the appointment as pension agent at Pittsburgh with apparently very good chances of success. There are a number of candidates for the place, most of them from Allegheny county, but some from other western counties, and it is understood that if the four congressmen from Allegheny county agree upon a man, Senators Knox and Penrose will recommend him to the President.

Thomas H. Sutherland of Washington, Pa., formerly a clerk in the census office, was here today and conferred with Representative Acheson and Senator Knox. Mr. Sutherland is a candidate for the position of pension agent, and is the only one who is not a veteran of the civil war. Senator Knox advised him to file his indorsements, and promised that they would be carefully considered.

HAZZARD'S STORY IS CORROBORATED

Human Teeth Fester Wounds and Doctor Says Geyser's Hands Were Bad.

SUPT. GLENN TELLS OF CHART

Dr. T. L. Hazzard was on the stand again yesterday in the trial of Norman H. Geyser, charged with murdering Mrs. Martha Shook Kirkpatrick. The defense tried to show by cross-examination that the wounds on Geyser's hand might have been made by a fall. Dr. Hazzard insisted the mark on Geyser's hand was caused by coming in contact with such a substance as a front tooth. He maintained the next wound on the hand was made by a squarely decayed tooth, which seemingly had been short before the encounter. He said the hand must have been closed to make the wounds, and from the depth and location it appeared to have been an uppercut blow. The witness said he always found it necessary to lose the nails for an uppercut. Dr. Hazzard testified that Geyser's wounds were festered, and wounds made by human teeth fester quicker than those made by animals, especially if the teeth were decayed.

Deputy Coroner Dempsey described the location of the body, and said there were two small marks on the neck that looked as if made by two fingers and a thumb.

Dr. C. B. Schildecher told the post-mortem examination. He told of the condition of the body and said the teeth were broken off, the lips were lacerated and the eyes blackened. There were six cuts on the chin, a bruise on the left side of the face, a cut on the nose and two cuts above the left eye. Two bruises on the right and one on the left side of the neck looked as if the assailant had held Mrs. Kirkpatrick with his left and struck her with his right hand. Dark colored blood in the lungs indicated Mrs. Kirkpatrick had died of strangulation. He corroborated Dr. Hazzard as to the wounds on Geyser's hand and what may have caused them and on cross-examination said the wounds might have been made by a falling on the street.

Testimony of Mother-in-Law.

Mrs. Anna Kirkpatrick, mother-in-law of the dead woman, told of her visit to her home that night, identified the market basket and said she knew Geyser, he having visited her house several times. She did not see him on the fatal Saturday night. Mrs. Kirkpatrick also told of her son, John Albert Kirkpatrick's hunt for his wife.

Detective William M. Speer said he and Detective John King arrested Geyser at his home in Rebecca street. Detective King corroborated Speer. He told of finding the dead woman's husband, and hearing his story to the effect that Geyser had been annoying his wife; also that Hugh Crawford of South avenue was a friend of Geyser. King and Speer got Crawford and he told of being with Geyser and Arthur Bellevue on Saturday night. King and Speer then went to Geyser's home and brought him to Central station.

"What did you say to Geyser when you arrested him?" Attorney Robb asked.

"We told him who we were, and I said to him: 'I suppose, Geyser, you know what we are here for?' " said King. "He replied: 'Yes, I hear Mattie has been found dead.' We then took him to Central station and seated him in a chair in the bath room, close to the cell department. Geyser sat with his hat over his right hand until Mr. Glenn came down and took charge of him. I had not then noticed that his right hand was tied up.

Geyser Said He Fell.

"Superintendent Glenn took Geyser into the matron's department, where we examined Geyser's hand, and asked him how he hurt it. He replied that he fell down on South Diamond street going home Saturday night, shortly before 12 o'clock. He told us he was with Crawford and Davis Saturday night drinking and playing pool until 9:30 o'clock, and that he was in the Diamond drinking by himself from that time until he went home. He said he left for home when the saloons closed at 11:45, going along South Diamond street to Sherman avenue, across Webb park to Marion avenue, to Martin street, and then down Corry street to Rebecca street and to his home."

The witness said Geyser was nervous when arrested, and that a reporter, who had told him of the death of Mrs. Kirkpatrick, was with him in the house when he was arrested. The reporter went away immediately after the officers got into the house.

King told of finding Geyser's overcoat damp when they took it from him at Central station that night and of finding blood spots on the sleeve, lapel and in the right hand outside pocket. Detective Speer corroborated the testimony of King as to what was said to and by Geyser at the house when he was arrested; also as to finding blood spots on the overcoat. He said he had not noticed that Geyser's hand was tied up until they got to Central station.

"I watched the motions of his face," Speer said, "to see how he acted. He was a little nervous."

Acting Superintendent John Glenn was then called. He said it was after 3 p. m. on the Sunday the body was found before he started to work on the case. He talked with Detective King and found Kirkpatrick, the husband of the dead woman, had been at the superintendent's office, and he and King went down to Kirkpatrick's mother's and brought him up.

Glenn on the Trail.

Glenn then described in detail the steps he and his assistants took in the case, the location of the grounds and buildings and the arc lights in the neighborhood of the yard where the body of the dead woman was found. He said he found there are yards in the rear of 9 and 7 Jackson street, and that a very narrow alley leads from the yard in the rear of No. 7 to Federal street, and that two boards were off the partition fence between the two yards. What this latter testimony will lead to is not known, but will be brought out before the trial is over.

Superintendent Glenn then described minutely the making of the chart of the back of Geyser's right hand in the presence of Dr. Hazzard and with his assistance, and also regarding the comparison of the chart with the dead woman's mouth. He corroborated the testimony of Dr. Hazzard throughout, and explained that he had a photograph of Geyser's hand taken both on Monday and Tuesday after the murder, but each time it was so dark the photographs were too dim to be of much use.

Glenn said he had cautioned Geyser when he first spoke to him not to say anything that would be against him when his case came for trial, and that Geyser had said very little to him or any of the police officials, except when he explained how he got hurt and where he was on the Saturday night of the murder.

ON TRIAL FOR HAZING A BOY FROM MEADVILLE

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Jan. 9.—The first court-martial of a midshipman under the act of 1903, providing dismissal for "encouraging or countenancing hazing," began this morning, Midshipman Stephen Decatur, Jr., of Portsmouth, N. H., being on trial. This charge is supported by one specification, that Decatur countenanced the hazing of Fourth Classman Gaylord Church of Meedville, Pa.

GIRTON TOUGHS AGAIN ON TRIAL

Leader Admits He Was Dishonorably Discharged from Soldiers' Orphans Home.

DIVORCE TRIAL LIST ENDS

Robert Girton, Charles and William Johnston, Frank Love, Elmer Wolfe and Mrs. Robert Girton, known as the "Girton Toughs," were again on trial in criminal court before Judge Taylor, and the entire day was taken up with their case. As in the first trial, all the defendants practically told the same story. Girton repeating his tale that two men left the goods, exhibited in court, at his house. Policeman John Thompson testified he had seen Girton near the scene of the robbery of William F. Creighton's grocery store, and William Bean claimed the stolen goods were hauled away in Girton's wagon. Girton admitted during cross examination by Assistant District Attorney Grimes, that he had been sent away from the State Soldiers' orphans' home with a dishonorable discharge.

The divorce list was finished in common pleas court No. 2. Mary McVay, who when she thinks is at least 45, testified that they separated within two months after their wedding. McVay, she said, got drunk the second day after the marriage and from that day until he left her she did not see him sober once.

Ella Link in her suit against John I. Link made charges of drunkenness and added to them other, of gambling and infidelity.

John Frederick, who is suing for a divorce from Margaret Frederick, was a widower with four children when he married, and his present wife was a widow with one child. He testified that his wife was ashamed of him and would have nothing to do with him. His son put him out finally and his wife would not go with him.

In the case of James H. French against Catherine French, the libellant testified that Mrs. French admitted her infidelity. She is now in California with her father.

James Johnson entered suit for divorce against Minnie Yeager Johnson, alleging cruel and barbarous treatment. He also began habeas corpus proceedings to gain possession of their minor child, Fred, whom he alleges Mrs. Johnson took with her when she left him. The court granted the preliminary order returnable January 13.

Rather unique are the allegations made by Gustav and Ruth Andersen in a suit for $500 damages each entered against William Almgren. They rented rooms from the defendant, they allege, who occupied the first floor of 7120 Upland street, Twenty-first ward. On December 7, 1905, it is alleged the defendant shut off the gas in the Andersens' apartments. It is alleged Mrs. Andersen, who has lately arrived from Europe, is not accustomed to gas. It is alleged there was further tampering with the gas valves and it is claimed the rooms were filled with gas which, it is alleged, made Mrs. Andersen and her child sick.

M. M. Levy through Joseph Stadfeld, sued Louis Finegold as the Louis Finegold Company, for $2,789 95. He avers $2,690 of this amount is due on a check drawn by the defendant in his favor in settlement of a balance on a stock transaction. The plaintiff avers a few minutes after the defendant obtained the stock certificates he stopped payment on the check. The plaintiff claims the rest of the amount claimed, $139 95, is a balance on sales of divers stocks. Broker Levy attached his accounts with Finegold, showing he was dealing on both sides of the market in the same stock. It was an interesting account and showed hundreds of transactions covering thousands of dollars.

Executions issued: Peoples Building and Loan association of Etna and Sharpsburg vs. Hannah N. Farmerie et al., $2,567; same vs. John A. Schneider, $2,374.

UNION BRIDGE CASE UP.

United States Trying to Convict Company of Misdemeanor for Non-Compliance With Law.

The case of the United States against the Union Bridge Company, charging a misdemeanor for failure to comply with an act of congress which requires bridges to be raised to a certain height above the river, was taken up in the United States district court before Judge Buffington yesterday. There was quite an array of legal talent in court when the case opened, the government being represented by United States District Attorney John W. Dunkle, Assistant District Attorney Robert M. Gibson and Attorney Albert Bettinger of Cincinnati, who was engaged as a special counsel by the government. Attorneys William B. Rodgers and McCleve & Wendt appeared for the bridge company.

A jury had been drawn, but not sworn in the case during the October term of court, and all but two of the jurors showed up when their names were called yesterday. This caused some delay, but talesmen were summoned and the two vacant seats filled.

Attorney Bettinger, for the government, opened the case and presented the indictments found against the bridge company to the jury and the reasons for the company being prosecuted. When Attorney Bettinger concluded his address Judge Buffington adjourned the trial until this morning.

TOLL OF THE RAILROADS.

Records of Death, Injury and Financial Affairs of Operating Roads in the Empire State.

ALBANY, N. Y., The total number of persons killed on steam surface railroads in New York in 1905 was 902, and the total injured was 1,961, as compared with 552 killed and 2,396 injured in 1904. These figures are given in the annual report of the state railroad commission. Fifteen passengers were killed and 995 injured in 1905, compared with 12 killed and 446 injured in 1904. The number of passengers carried was 37,660,279, one passenger was killed for each 6,470,685 carried and one injured for each 306,265 carried. In 1905, 825 employes were killed and 1,344 injured; in 1904, 229 were killed and 1,587 injured.

A SAMPLE THAT COSTS BUT A TWO CENT STAMP

will give you proof that Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm will positively cure the worst case of catarrh and catarrhal deafness, no matter how long you have suffered, how many remedies you have tried or how much money you have spent with specialists without permanent benefit. Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, O., will send you a free sample if you will send them a two-cent stamp for postage. The following testimonial is one of the thousands which they receive. It speaks for itself:

"Your Catarrh Balm has been doing a most wonderful work for me thus far in my catarrh case. It has done me more good than any treatment which I received from the whole 13 specialists whom I was under. I can recommend your Catarrh Balm to everyone as the best catarrh remedy on the stage of medicines, as I have tried all the catarrh medicines you can mention, and none of them did me any good."—P. F. Provisional Wage Scale Will Come Before Mine Workers' Convention on Thursday.

OPENING DAY PROCEEDINGS

The opening sessions of the seventeenth annual convention of district No. 5 of the United Mine Workers of America, held yesterday in Moorhead hall, Grant street and Second avenue, were largely taken up with routine matter such as the seating of the 150 delegates, the appointing of committees and reading of reports. Most of the preliminary business was disposed of and when this morning's session opens the convention will be in full swing. It is expected to last until Saturday, and the majority of the delegates will leave on the following day for Indianapolis to attend the national convention which opens on January 16.

At the afternoon session Chairman John McGinty of the committee on credentials, reported favorably on all but two delegates. A warm fight followed, resulting in the seating of William Reed of Stockdale, instead of George Roberts, and George Hallas of New England, over Samuel Woolrich.

William Booth, of Webster, was made chairman of the scale committee, Frank Freehand, of Castle Shannon, constitution; G. S. Fisher, of Belle Vernon, resolutions; David Hobaugh, of Sunnyside, grievances; Charles Walcutt, of Kaylor, official reports; John Van Foseen, of Elizabeth, rules and order.

The latter part of the afternoon was spent in a general discussion of conditions prevailing in the district.

When the convention opened in the morning President Patrick Dolan was reported as being too ill to attend and in his absence the formalities were gone through with by Vice President Uriah Bellingham. A telegram from John Mitchell, president of the national organization, expressing the hope for a successful convention, was received with great applause and a congratulatory message was returned to him. Rules regarding the number of votes allowed each delegate were adopted. There was a lively discussion when Secretary William Dodds suggested that no resolutions be received or acted upon after Wednesday. Attempts were made to have the time extended another day, but the motion as originally put prevailed.

President Dolan, if he is well enough to attend today's sessions, will present his annual report. Vice President Bellingham said in his report: "We have had a great year and have still brighter prospects. Harmony reigned in the district. All but two disputes have been settled satisfactorily. He alluded to the inspiration given the men at the meetings held here which were attended by John Mitchell, national president and T. L. Lewis, national vice president. "The recommendation that our local lodge officers be bonded," he continued, "has been carried out with success. We have a stronger and better membership. Harmony prevailed which is essential to progress. I believe that both employer and employe should be treated fairly."

Secretary William Dodds said in his report: "This time last year there were many idle mines. The demand for coal was not equal to the supply. But the outlook for this year is fine. The joint agreement now in effect has worked well. Only a few new locals have been organized, but the membership is growing. Excluding those in arrears and others exonerated from paying dues, we have now 21,500 taxed members compared to 17,000 in 1903. The growth in our receipts in the past year has amounted to several thousand dollars. We are at this meeting in a spirit of fair play and I trust we will go to Indianapolis the same way."

It is altogether likely that the provisional wage scale may come before the convention on Thursday and on that day also, it is expected, the result of the recent election will be announced. That an increase in wages will be sought is certain, and it is stated that as much as 10 per cent increase may be asked. The scale as arranged in this convention will have to go before the national convention for approval. Immediately after the Indianapolis convention, the annual conference between the miners and operators will take place.

TECH GLEE CLUB.

The hockey team of the technical schools has been matched with the team of the Toronto university for a game at Duquesne garden on the evening of January 20.

Invitations have been extended to the Pennsylvania College for Women and various art schools and institutions of the city to attend the exhibition of drawings from leading architectural schools of the country during the week at the technical schools. Invitations have also been given architectural classes and practicing architects.

$10,000 for Bear's Meal.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Fourteen-year-old Walter R. Molloy, who sued to recover $50,000 from John H. Starin for having his leg chewed by a bear, today recovered a verdict of $10,000. On May 28, 1902, the boy was looking at a cub bear in a cage on the Starin pier in New Haven when another bear reached out of his cage and, grabbing him by the right foot, so crushed and mangled it that the leg had to be amputated.

OLD CAR TICKETS IN CIRCULATION

Worthless Books Representing Several Hundred Thousand Dollars Are Stolen.

Several hundred thousand dollars worth of old stret car and incline tickets, issued several years ago by companies which have since been absorbed by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, are in circulation, and so many have been presented in payment of fares within the last few days that the officials of the company has issued a statement announcing them as worthless.

Through oversight these tickets were stored with other old material when the consolidation of the lines was effected. This material was burned last week and included two wagon loads of tickets. While en route to cremation several large bundles of these coupon books were stolen from the wagons, and are now appearing in circulation and being presented to conductors. Most of the tickets were for use on the Monongahela street railway, Pittsburgh & Birmingham railway, the hill top lines and the Mt. Oliver and Knoxville inclines.

The only tickets good on our lines bear the name "Pittsburgh Railways Company, James D. Callery, president." All others will be refused by conductors, and it will be useless to present them. I am told that many books of the old tickets have been offered for sale at ridiculously low prices. I wouldn't give 5 cents for a carload of them. I have sent out warnings to all conductors not to take them. There are many of these old tickets now in circulation, and, as far as we can learn, represent a face value of several hundred thousand dollars. All conductors accepting them will be responsible for them at 5 cents each.

ASK NO FAVORS OF COUNCILMEN

Pennsylvania Will Secure Extension from Bigelow to Occupy Liberty Avenue.

PITCAIRN SEES DIRECTOR

Director Bigelow, it is stated, will grant an extension of the time limit of two years for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to remove its tracks from Liberty avenue without requiring the company to ask this favor of the city councils.

Director Bigelow yesterday discussed his matter with Robert Pitcairn of the Pennsylvania railroad. The director and Mr. Pitcairn met in the office of Mayor Hays at city hall and arranged for another conference this morning at 10 o'clock in Mr. Pitcairn's office at the Union station.

The ordinance granting the Pennsylvania railroad the right to construct its elevated tracks along Duquesne way contained a clause requiring the company to remove its tracks from Liberty avenue in two years. It is stated that the two-year limit expires in March and the railroad fears applying to councils for an extension because of its order, put into effect on January 1, stopping all passes to councilmen and others.

Director Bigelow comes to the aid of the company by agreeing to grant the extension himself. Mr. Bigelow stated yesterday in the most emphatic terms that the railroad would not apply to councils for a single favor.

"Will the Pennsylvania railroad have any favors at all to ask of the councils this year?" he was asked.

"Positively not," was his reply. "The Pennsylvania railroad tracks will be removed from Liberty avenue in May. The street is to be repaved at the expense of the railroad company. The company sent to my office the other day for an estimate of the cost of repaving."

"Will Liberty avenue be paved with asphalt, as the railroad company promised when it secured its franchise for the Duquesne way line?" Mr. Bigelow was asked.

"It may be paved with asphalt," was his evasive reply.

"Does the estimate you furnished the railroad provide for repaving the street for asphalt or block stone?"

"It could be for either," responded the director evasively.

Mr. Bigelow would not say positively what material is to be used in the repaving of Liberty avenue by the railroad.

Director Bigelow says that the anti-pass order and its effect upon city legislation was discussed by himself and Mr. Pitcairn.

"Not a pass will be issued this year," said he. "I did not get one myself. I am glad they have been stopped. It saves me a great deal of annoyance."

VOLUNTARY MOVE FOR 2-CENT RATE

Steel Man Says Railroads, Having Abolished Passes, Should Now Take Such Action.

N. Y. C. LINES BUSY HERE

"The best thing that the railroads can do now to intrench themselves firmly into the good will of the general public is to voluntarily reduce their passenger mileage rates to 2 cents a mile," remarked one of the best known steel manufacturers of Pittsburgh yesterday, while discussing the subject of the roads abolishing the pass system. "The roads have done an excellent thing in cutting off the fungus growth of free riders. The situation, I know, had become almost unbearable, and it was the abuse of the system by every protege of a public officer or councilman or whatever his title and calling might be rather than the use of the privilege rightfully, that induced the roads to cut off the free transportation. Now let them do the just thing and give a 2-cent rate voluntarily for every one who travels and the situation will become something creditable."

Another well known man remarked that the railroads have been discriminating in selling mileage at the 2-cent rate, when a single ticket must be paid for at the rate of 3 cents a mile. He said, that while it was the privilege of any one to buy a 2-cent rate book for 1,000 miles, it was not practicable for all, and there came the injustice. The movement among the commercial and business men is rapidly spreading for the straight $20 rate for the 1,000-mile book. It is said that some of the parties to one of the eastern lines' books do not demand the extra deposit of $1, which is usually given by other roads in rebate when the book is used and the covers are returned. The Pennsylvania always demands this extra $20, but says the mileage system is a part of the Trunk Line association and that it is not a Pennsylvania affair.

Conferring on 1906 Excursions.

W. S. Randolph, excursion manager of the New York Central lines, and H. Parry, general agent of the passenger department of the same system, both of Buffalo, are spending a couple of days in Pittsburgh in conference with General Passenger Agent Robison and City Passenger Agent Morris. The conference is to be upon the excursion business of the New York Central lines for the coming summer. The system will place a strong list of resorts before the people. Some of these will be used for regular excursions during the entire season, while others will be attractions for the summer sojourner in the mountains or along the lakes. The business of the New York Central lines out of the Pittsburgh district over the system's local line, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, has grown almost marvelously in the past couple of years. The system maintains as fast service out of Pittsburgh to Boston, Buffalo, Cleveland and Chicago and connecting lines at those places as can be found on any road, and some of the most luxurious trains in the country are those run by the "Little Giant."

Another evidence of the growth of traffic of the New York Central lines in this district is shown in the gradual enlargement of the office force of General Agent Hurd of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern. Announcement was made yesterday that Samuel P. Woodside, Jr., a son of Samuel P. Woodside, traffic manager of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, and hence a born and bred traffic man, has been appointed assistant stenographer and clerk in the office of the general agent. Young Mr. Woodside has been with the American Bridge Company for some time.

California Travel Picking Up.

That California travel is picking up is the opinion of the traffic representatives of the lines reaching into the Golden State. Up to this time the winter has given little excuse for going to California, but from now on until late in the spring it is expected the business will be fully normal, if not beyond former years. District Passenger Agent Pentecost of the Rock Island-Frisco system said yesterday that reservations have been made for a large number of Pittsburghers on the Golden State limited and other trains of the Rock Island out of Chicago. By connecting with the Golden State limited from either Pittsburgh & Lake Erie train No. 17, which leaves Pittsburgh at 8:15 a. m., or Ft. Wayne train No. 9 at 8 a. m., connection can be made at Englewood station, Chicago, with the Golden State limited, and thus the fastest service between Pittsburgh and California can be had. The Golden State limited reaches Los Angeles the third day out at 2:15 p. m.

B. & O. Busy With Lectures.

Baltimore & Ohio officers and employes are more directly interested in the series of lectures on "First Aid to the Injured" at present than other subjects. The lectures are being delivered by the company's surgeons over the entire Pittsburgh system. One of the lectures by Dr. Miller in the car distributor's office at the Water Street station yesterday was attended by a number of the officers and office men, in addition to all of the road and terminal operating men who could attend. The lectures are distributed over about 10 days, and are being given by the surgeons at a number of points, so as to give all employes an opportunity to hear the lectures and to learn what to do in case of injury to employes or passengers.

Preparing to Move Office Here.

The Republic Iron & Steel Company's offices, it is pretty well understood, are to be removed to Pittsburgh shortly, or at least some of the offices of this thriving industrial company of the Mahoning valley district. H. R. Moore, traffic manager of the company, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh, and it was understood although Mr. Moore could not be located to affirm the matter, he was making final arrangements for the transfer of the traffic headquarters of the Republic interests to this city. The general offices are now in Chicago.

Number of B. & O. Agents Shifted.

Announcement was made by Supt. Duer of the Baltimore & Ohio yesterday of a number of changes in agencies on the Pittsburgh division. J. H. Hossler, who has been bill clerk at Ellwood City, has been appointed agent there as successor to J. A. McKie. Mr. McKie is appointed agent at Knox to succeed C. A. Smith, and Mr. Smith goes to Petrolia as agent, succeeding J. B. Ervin, resigned. The changes are effective at once, and are promotions for the men affected.

Railroad Notes.

O. G. Parsley, general agent of the Kansas City Southern, was a visitor from Chicago yesterday.

Gen. Supt. Creighton is making one of his periodical inspections of the local divisions of the Pennsylvania.

C. C. Needham, real estate, claim and tax agent of the Wabash lines east of St. Louis, was here yesterday acquainting himself with his new duties on the Pittsburgh end of the system.

General Agent Hurd of the Lake Shore and a number of other Pittsburgh traffic men are attending the meeting of the Central Freight association in Chicago today. The Central Passenger association is also holding its monthly session at Chicago.

Official news of the appointment of Charles W. Clarke as general freight agent of the Erie at Chicago, which appointment was exclusively forecasted in The Gazette last week, was received with much gratification here yesterday. Mr. Clarke was formerly general agent of the Erie in Pittsburgh.

SIX MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF NEW BUILDINGS

Increases in assessments on new buildings will add about $6,000,000 to the valuation of city property this year. The assessors have completed their valuation of new buildings, and are now hearing appeals from their assessments of them. These are expected to be all closed up in 10 days, when the report of the assessors will be made to the mayor and transmitted to the finance committee.

Non-Partisan Conference.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The Municipal Voters' league of this city has issued a call for a conference on the various non-partisan organizations throughout the country for the promotion of better municipal government by practical participation in city elections. The conference is to be held here Thursday and Friday. The City club has joined in the invitation.

"THE ROAD TO WELLVILLE."

THE BATH COMEDY

By AGNES AND EGERTON CASTLE,

Authors of "The Pride of Jennico."

(Copyright, 1900, by Egerton Castle.)

"It's for the ground floor, of course; for the French marquis," said O'Hara, and sat down, feeling as flat as a pancake.

The next instant a knock at the door sent the quick blood flying to the red head. The "limb of Satan," more generally known as Tim Mahoney, an ingratiating, untidy fellow, with a cunning leer and a coaxing manner, stood ogling his master on the threshold; then he jerked with his thumb several times over his shoulder, and grinned with exquisite enjoyment.

"What is it?" said O'Hara fiercely.

Tim winked and jerked his thumb once more.

"Speak, ye ugly divil, or by heavens I'll spoil your beauty for you!"

"Your sisther!" cried Tim, with a rumbling subterraneous laugh.

"Me sisther, man?"

"Ay, yer honor," said the scamp, who, as O'Hara's foster-brother, was well aware that his master boasted no such gentle tie. "Sure she's heard your honor's wounded, and she's come to visit you. I'm Misther O'Hara's sister,' says she—"

"And am I not?" cried a sweet voice behind him, "or, if not, at least a very dear cousin, and, in any case, I must see Mr. O'Hara at once, and alone."

"To be sure," cried O'Hara, eagerly rising in every way to the situation, and leaping forward. "Show in the lady, you villain!—Oh, my darling!" cried the Irishman, opening generous arms, "but I am glad to see ye!—Tim, you scoundrel, shut the door behind you!"

The visitor was much enveloped, besides being masked. But there was not a moment's hesitation in the ardor of Mr. O'Hara's welcome.

"Sir, sir," cried a faint voice from behind the folds of lace, "what conduct is this?"

"Oh, sisther darling, sure, me heart's been hungering for you! Another kiss, me dear, dear cousin!"

"Mr. O'Hara!" cried Mistress Bellairs, in tones of unmistakable indignation; tore off her mask and stood with panting bosom and fiery eye.

"Tare and ages!" exclaimed the ingenious Irishman. "If it isn't me lovely Kitty!"

"Mistress Bellairs, if you please, Mr. O'Hara," said the lady with great dignity. "I am glad to see, sir, that that other passion of which I have heard so much has not interfered with the strength of your family affections."

She sat down and fanned herself with her mask, and, looking haughtily round the room, finally fixed her gaze, with much interest, upon the left branch of the chandelier.

For a second, Mr. O'Hara's glib tongue seemed at a loss; but it was only for a second. With a graceful movement he gathered the skirts of his fine-flowered damask dressing gown more closely over the puce satin small clothes, which, he was sadly conscious, were not in their first freshness, besides bearing the trace of one over-generous bumper of what he was fond of calling the ruby-wine. Then, sinking on one knee, he began to pour a tender tale into the widow's averted ear. "And it's the fine ninny ye must think me, Kitty darling—I beg your pardon, darling; ma'am it shall be, though I vow to see ye toss your little head like that, and set all those elegant little curls dancing, is enough to make anyone want to start you at it again. Oh, sure, it's the divine little ear you have, but be jabers, Kitty, if it's the back of your neck you want to turn on me—there, now, if I was to be shot for it, I couldn't help it—with the little place there just inviting my lips."

"Keep your kisses for your sister, sir, or your cousin!"

"What in the world—And d'ye think I didn't know you?"

"A likely tale!"

"May I die this minute if I didn't know you before ever you were out of the ould chair!"

"Pray, sir," with an angry titter, "how will even your fertile wits prove that?"

"Sure, didn't I see the little pink foot of you step out, and didn't I know it before ever it reached the ground?"

"Lord forgive you!" said Mistress Kitty gravely. But a dimple peeped.

He had now possessed himself of her hand, which he was caressing with the touch of the tentative lover, tenderer than a woman's, full of mute cajoling inquiry. "I hope the Lord may forgive me for setting up and worshipping an idol. I believe there's something against that in the commandments, darling, but sure, maybe, old Moses wouldn't have been so hard on those Israelites if they'd had the gumption to raise a pretty woman in the midst of them, instead of an old gilt Calf."

"Oh, dear," said she, "never, never speak to me of that dreadful animal again! Oh, Denis," she said, turning upon him for the first time her full eyes, as melting and as pathetic just then as it was in their composition to look, "I am in sad, sad trouble, and I don't know what to do!"

Here she produced a delicate handkerchief and applied it to her eyelashes, which she almost believed herself had become quite moist.

"Me jewel!" cried Mr. O'Hara, preparing to administer the first form of consolation that occurred to him.

"Be quiet," said Mistress Kitty testily. "Get up, sir! I have to consult you. There, there, sit down. Oh, I am in earnest, and this is truly serious."

Mr. O'Hara, though with some reluctance, obeyed. He drew his chair as near to the widow's as she would permit him, and pursed his lips into gravity.

"You know my Lord Verney," began the fascinating widow.

"I do," interrupted the irrepressible Irishman, "and a decent quiet lad he is, though, devil take him, he makes so many bones about losing a few guineas at cards that one would think they grew on his skin!"

"Hush," said she. "I can't abide him!"

Mr. O'Hara half started from his arm-chair. "Say but the word," said he, "and I'll run him through the ribs as neat as—"

"Oh, be quiet," cried the lady, in much exasperation. "How can you talk like that when all the world knows he is to be my husband!"

"Your husband!" Mr. O'Hara turned an angry crimson to the roots of his crisp red hair. Then he stopped, suffocating.

Her lover turned white, and leaned back against the wing of his great chair. The physician had blooded him that morning by way of mending him for his loss of the previous night, and he felt just a little shaky and swimming. Mistress Kitty's eye became ever more kindly as it marked these flattering signs of emotion.

"The noodle," said she vindictively, "mistook the purport of some merely civil words, and forthwith went about bleating to all Bath that he and I were to be wed."

"I'll soon stop his mouth for him," muttered Mr. O'Hara, moved to less refinement of diction than he usually affected. "Oh, Kitty," said he, and wiped his pale brow, "sure, it's the terrible fright you've given me!"

"You don't understand," said she, and stamped her foot. "Oh, how can I explain? How are people so stupid! I was obliged to go to his room this morning—a pure matter of friendship, sir, on behalf of my Lady Standish. Who would have conceived that the calf would take it for himself and think it was for his sake I interfered between him and that madman, Sir Jasper! 'Tis very hard," cried Mistress Kitty, "for a lone woman to escape calumny, and now there is my Lord Verney, after braying it to the whole of Bath, this moment writing to his insufferable old mother. And there is that cockatoo aunt of his looking out her most ancient set of garnets and strass for a wedding gift. And, oh dear, oh dear; what am I to do?"

She turned over the back of her chair, to hide her face in her pocket handkerchief. In a twinkling, O'Hara was again at her feet.

"Soul of my soul, pulse of my heart!" cried he. "Sure, don't cry, Kitty darling, I'll clear that little fellow out of your way before you know where you are."

"Indeed, sir," she said, flashing round upon him with a glance surprisingly bright, considering her woe. "And is that how you would save my reputation? No, I see there's nothing for it," said Mistress Kitty with sudden composure, folding up her handkerchief deliberately, and gazing up again at the chandelier with the air of an early martyr, "there's nothing for it but to pay the penalty of my good-nature and go live at Verney hall between my virtuous Lord Verney and that paragon of female excellence and domestic piety, his mother."

"Now by Saint Peter," cried O'Hara, springing to his feet, "if I have to whip you from under his nose at the very altar, and carry you away myself, I'll save you from that, me darling!"

"Say you so?" cried the lady with alacrity. "Then, indeed, sir," she proceeded with sweetest coyness, and pointed her dimple at him, "I'll not deny but what I thought you could help me, when I sought you tonight. There was a letter, sir," she said, "which yester morning I received. 'Twas signed by a lock of hair—"

"Ah, Kitty!" cried the enraptured and adoring Irishman, once more extending wide his arms.

"Softly, sir," said she, eluding him "Let us to business."

CHAPTER XV.

"But you must understand," said the lady, "that you carry me off against my will."

"To be sure," said he. "Isn't poor Denis O'Hara to run away with you merely to save your reputation?"

"So if I scream, sir, and give you a scratch or two, you will bear me no malice?"

"Bear you malice, is it?" said he, stopping to kiss each finger-tip of the hand which he contrived somehow should never be long out of his clasp. "Me darling, sure, won't I love to feel your little pearls of nails on my cheek?"

"And spare no expense upon chaise or horses," said she.

"Ha?" cried Mr. O'Hara, while a certain vagueness crept into his gaze. "Me dear love, the best that money can produce—that money can produce," said Mr. O'Hara, and his eye rolled under the stress and strain of an inward calculation: ("There's my grandfather's watch; I'm afeared the works are not up to the gold case, but it might run to four guineas. And there's my jewelled snuff-box that the chevalier gave my father—no dash it, that's gone! There's my silver-hilted sword—I could exchange it for a black one and perhaps five guineas. And there's my three sets of Mechlin.")

While he cogitated, the lady smiled upon him with gentle raillery; then she popped her hand in her pocket and drew forth a well-filled case.

CHINESE PUPILS' GOOD TIME AT SECOND CHURCH

Entertainment and Banquet—Another Circulating Library to Be Sent to China.

The Chinese students of the Second Presbyterian church Sunday school, the Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor, were entertained in the church parlors last evening by the teachers of the school. Music, songs, games and lantern slide views of scenes in Chinatown, San Francisco, and Japan, were the features of the entertainment, ending with a prettily appointed feast in the large dining-room of the church. One hundred covers were laid.

The special guests were the Rev. and Mrs. S. Edward Young, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McJunkin, who started the school 28 years ago in the Second church; Mr. Paul Tung, a Chinese traveling salesman for a Chicago house, and greatly interested in missionary work among his countrymen; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Zeigler, W. Glendenning and E. Williams. Post-prandial speeches were made by Mr. Young, Mr. McJunkin, Mr. Jung and Mr. Yee Tang. Edwin S. Gray, superintendent of the school, was master of ceremonies.

The work among the Chinese was never more prosperous than now. It is claimed that the Chinese school in the Second church is the largest adult Chinese school in the country. Just now a Chinese subscription book is in circulation among the scholars for sending a traveling circulating religious library among the villages of China. This will be the third library sent to China by this school. Hundreds of conversions and adherents to the Christian religion are reported back from these libraries.

WIRE WELCOME ANSWER.

Pittsburgh Police Find Boys Who Ran Away from Their New York Home Recently.

Over the wires to Ostego county, New York, flashed an answer to many telegrams last night that Howard Piggott and Edward Adams had been found by Pittsburgh police. For nearly a week the police here been receiving telegrams daily from the Ostego county sheriff asking them to locate the boys who, at the age of 15, set out to see the world. They bought a ticket at Buffalo for this city. Yesterday a photograph of Piggott arrived.

Just as Capt. Lawrence Bartley and Special Policeman Edward Dunn finished scrutinizing the photograph young Piggott walked into headquarters. He complained of an employment agent who took $2 from him and then did not get him a job. The boy was surprised when the police called him by name, and did not deny his identity. He said Adams was outside. The officers went to look for him, but he was gone. He was later found at the Empire hotel, East End. The boys are in the care of the matron at Central station. They had secured employment selling soap.

PROTECTION FOR ESPLEN.

Making Arrangements to Put in Police Call and Fire Alarm Boxes in the New Ward.

E. B. Werner, superintendent of police; Miles Humphreys, chief engineer of the bureau of fire, and William Bennett, assistant engineer in charge of the South Side district, spent two hours yesterday afternoon looking after the streets and by-ways of the new Fortieth ward for the purpose of knowing how to locate police patrol and fire alarm boxes. It was about decided that three fire alarm boxes and two patrol boxes would be sufficient for fire and police protection, and they will so recommend to Director Merry Moore of the department of safety.

It is expected that linemen will be put to work at once to connect up the boxes with the fire alarm office and police station house. At present an alarm of fire will have to be telephoned, and when an arrest is made the telephone will also have to be used.

PROMINENT MEN COMING.

Food for Thought as Well as the Appetite at M. & M. Banquet.

There will be food for thought as well as for the more material man at the first big banquet of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, to be held at the Hotel Schenley on Lincoln's birthday, February 12. The food for thought will be predigested.

Secretary James W. Wardrop and W. A. Moore, who have been touring the country for talking thinkers, returned from Washington yesterday with the assurance that Gov. Cummins of Iowa will be on hand to discuss and advocate reciprocal tariff, while Congressman Littlefield of Maine is to give answer. All the M. & M. members and their guests will have to do is to listen. United States Senator Knox and Congressman James Francis Burke will also deliver addresses, and Gov. Warfield of Maryland will be present and will be called on to speak.

Dinner to Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt tonight were entertained at dinner by Secretary and Mrs. Shaw. Other guests were Speaker and Miss Cannon, Senator and Mrs. Dolliver, Senator and Mrs. Kean, Representative and Miss Cromer, and several of the assistant secretaries and other officials of the treasury.

A "Go" from the Start

Amazing the number of people who told us yesterday that the Carnegie Library Call Station for the exchange of books just installed in our store, is what they have been wanting for years. Thousands will now take out tickets because they can use the Library facilities without loss of time or heavy outlay in carfares.

KAUFMANN'S "THE BIG STORE"

Thronged All Day

You ought to see the crowds around the Muslin Underwear table on the Third floor. Evidently thousands of wise women are buying now so that when the dust and perspiration of July days call for frequent changes to freshen one up, they will have a plentiful supply for all occasions.

FERNS KNOCKED OUT BY MOORE

Pittsburgher Finishes Buffalo Boy in First Round—Local Scrappers Winners.

FRED ZIRRINGER DOES WELL

Kid Ferns of Buffalo was knocked out by Paul Moore of Pittsburgh after 36 seconds of fighting in the wind up of the inter-city show last night at Old City hall.

The sleep producer was put on Ferns by Moore with a short right to the jaw. Ferns went down and rolled on his face. Referee Frank Morgan counted him out, while Moore's friends were cheering wildly. When Morgan declared Moore the winner he was hoisted on the shoulders of his admirers and carried to his dressing-room. Ferns was assisted to his corner.

There was a long dispute before they fought over rules. Ferns held out for clean breaking, while Moore wanted to fight under straight rules. Jimmy Mason, who had refereed the first three bouts and who is Moore's manager, became disgusted at the stand taken by the club's management and quit as referee and went in Moore's corner.

They agreed to break away clean. Ferns forced the fighting and got in two hard uppercuts, but Moore felneted with his left and then sent him the haymaker. They fought at 125 pounds.

Fred Zirringer, the Allegheny boy, had a shade on Kid French, the Buffalo crack, and Tommy Lynch of East Pittsburgh had a slight advantage over John O'Donnell of Buffalo. Jack Bruce forced the fighting and, with the exception of the last round, had the better of Irish Bush of Buffalo. The milling was hard and well fought. The refereeing of Mason was one of the features. He made the men fight according to the rules and between rounds kept the crowd in a merry humor by some of his funny remarks.

Zirringer and French fought at 107 pounds. French was the aggressor in the first round, but Zirringer fought him back and both displayed much cleverness. Zirringer had the better of the second round. He began by sending in right and left to French's head and jaw, and when French had him back to the ropes he ducked a right swing cleverly and got away. He sent in a right and left to French's jaw, sending him to his knees. Just as the bell rang French put in a hard swing to the jaw.

They sparred at the start of the third round, and Zirringer was forced to the ropes, but he got out and both exchanged swings in the middle of the ring. The mouths of both were bleeding. French ducked a vicious swing just as the bell rang. Zirringer whipped in a right to the jaw and then in a clinch threw French to the floor. He got up and sent in a right to Zirringer's head. Zirringer came back to life and sent in a right to the right to the ribs and another left to the face.

They sparred for a while in the fifth and Zirringer sent in a right and left to the face, and French got home a wallop to the jaw, which rocked Zirringer's head, but the blonde haired youngster smiled and blocked a right swing.

Both exchanged wallops in the sixth, and after landing a jab to the face Zirringer backed away. French went after him and swung, but Zirringer caught him off his balance with a right to the ribs and French fell out of the ring among the spectators. They got at it again and for the remainder of the round put up a fine exhibition of in-fighting.

Lynch and O'Donnell fought at 115 pounds. Lynch is a strong, husky boy with a wallop which if it lands, will send an opponent into dreamland. O'Donnell is a ring veteran and is crafty. Lynch outfought him, particularly in the third round, but was unable to land the knockout punch. O'Donnell came back in the next round and stalled along. When in fight places his ring generalship was made manifest by his aggressiveness in flushing away Lynch, in the infighting, played for Lynch's kidneys, but at the biff-bang and in straight punches Lynch was the better. Lynch, however, had the better of the bout.

Bruce and Bush met at 125 pounds. For the first five rounds Bruce was the aggressor and landed often. The sixth round, however, was the nearest of them all. Both tried to land the haymaker. Bruce made a vicious swing and missed, losing his balance. Bush, with a standing blow, sent him down for the count of seven. Bruce, however, got up and put up a fierce battle to the end of the round.

Charles Van Kirk, aged 12, and Frank Quinn, aged 11, both of McKeesport, boxed four 2-minute rounds as a curtain raiser. They pleased the crowd.

ALLEGHENY GIRLS BEAT PITTSBURGH AT BASKETBALL

The Allegheny High school girls defeated the Pittsburgh High school girls in an interesting basketball game on the A. H. S. floor, yesterday, 9 to 8. The guarding on both sides was excellent, which accounts for the low score. Miss Price threw three goals for Allegheny, the only ones made during the game. The lineup:

BOWLERS TOUCH THE 900 MARK TWICE

There was a great match played last night in the Pittsburgh section on the Carrick alleys, between the Carricks and Friendship (two supposedly weak teams), but the score made will surprise some of those that made predictions as to future results accomplished by these teams. Carrick started right off the real with a 900 score, and not to be outdone Friendship came right back at them in the second game with 946. Carrick won the odd game by one pin, 829 to 828. Two hundred scores were numerous. Hergenroeder (with one eye) was high with 247, he also had best average. Fromm, Corbethan, Gemperle and Strathman were also in the 200 class. Scores:

All Werries players are requested to report on the St. Vincent alleys Thursday night for the match against the Senators.

The Tarentum duckpin team would like to hear from the Imperials for games at Tarentum Friday night. The Tarentum team will play for fun or money, home and home series. Answer through The Gazette.

Fitzharris of Tarentum would like to know when John Hartman will bring his all star team to Tarentum. Answer through The Gazette.

Greb and Robertson are requested to report on the Wylie avenue alleys tonight.

Frank Thomas has resigned as captain of the Royals of the Allegheny association, and John Mohr was elected to succeed him. Capt. Mohr will endeavor to lift the team out of last place.

The A. J. Martin Southpaws will try conclusions with the Knoxville Kountry Klub on the Adams alleys, in Mt. Oliver. A great game is looked for, as both teams are bowling a fine game, and, being evenly matched, great interest has been aroused.

The A. J. Martins are desirous of arranging a schedule of games with any and all teams on the South Side or Hilltops; also would like a game with the O. & P. team of the Amateur league.

Ralph's Colts wish games with all amateur teams in the county, on the Great Eastern alleys. Address H. R. Weaver, 1801 Penn avenue, or 148 Plavel street, East End.

There was a mistake made in the Twin City league in the report of the games played last Friday night. The Pioneers won all three games from the Black Diamonds and they also made high score of the evening, 899. The mistake was made by the names of the teams being transposed.

SEVENTEEN MISSING IN HAVERSTRAW LANDSLIDE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HAVERSTRAW, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Seventeen persons are missing tonight and are believed to have been killed when 13 houses in Rockland street toppled over last night into a pit 60 feet deep, cut by clay diggers in making brick. Twelve of the missing were occupants of the houses, five were among the rescuers who went to the aid of neighbors after the first house fell and were carried down when the other 12 houses went crashing over the precipice. The wreckage quickly caught fire. Tonight there is grave fear of another cave-in.

The missing are Morris Neilson, a merchant; Benjamin Neilson, his son; Mrs. Silverman and young son; Charles Cohen and wife; P. Mannin and wife; John B. Beauchump; A. Provitch and daughter; Abraham Dias, Joseph Albert, John McMurray, Bartley McGovern, Mrs. Joseph Dailey and a Jewish rabbi.

James Sammie, who lived along the edge of the pit, did not get out of the house until it had settled eight feet. His wife went down with the building. Sammie obtained ropes and went down after his wife, bringing her up with the aid of two men. Her leg was broken.

TEBEAU AND GRIFFITHS BEATEN; PEACEFUL MEET

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Any differences that may have existed among the various minor baseball leagues, which compose the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, were amicably adjusted at the annual meeting here today of the controlling organization.

Eighteen associations out of a total of 26 which compose the parent body were represented at the meeting, and although there was considerable rivalry over the naming of a new executive board there was no evidence of a split in the organization which it was said was probable should the members of a certain faction be defeated for re-election. This faction, which was headed by George Tebeau of the American association, and Griffiths of the Eastern league, were only able to muster 2½ votes out of the 18 cast, and their places on the executive board were filled by new members. Tebeau and Griffiths who it was declared prior to the meeting would succeed G. Ogden, should they be defeated after the meeting had adjourned tonight, expressed their entire satisfaction with the makeup of the committee, and that they would abide by its decisions.

The members of the executive board which settles all questions of dispute that may come up in the various associations follows: President, P. T. Power, president of the National association of Professional Baseball clubs, re-elected; secretary, J. H. Farrell, Auburn, N. Y., re-elected for a term of five years; directors, William Kavanaugh, president Southern League, re-elected; Eugene Bert of the Pacific Coast league, re-elected; J. Ed Grillo, president of the Toledo club, in the American association (a new member); H. J. Morrissey, president New England league, re-elected; E. M. Shively, Western association (a new member); M. H. Sexton Three I league (a new member), and J. H. O'Rourke, Bridgeport, Conn., president Connecticut State league (a new member).

WISCONSIN'S INSTRUCTIONS.

Its Representation Will Vote for Suspension of Intercollegiate Football.

MADISON, WIS., Jan. 9.—At a meeting of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin today the following resolutions were adopted as instructions to Prof. F. J. Turner, who was elected university representative to a conference of the "Big Nine" universities of the middle west, to be held at Chicago, Friday:

"Resolved, That the representative of the University of Wisconsin to the Chicago conference propose to the conference there represented a public condemnation of the evils associated with football at the present time, and a protest against the undue emphasis upon competitive athletics as compared with the fundamental purpose of a university.

"Resolved, That the representative of the University of Wisconsin is instructed to propose to the other universities at the Chicago conference the suspension of intercollegiate football between the universities for a period of two years, to the end that rational, moral and normal relations between athletics and intellectual activities may develop in each institution, this action to be operative upon ratification by the respective faculties."

JIMMY DUNN GAINS DECISION OVER YOUNG

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Jan. 9.—(Special.)—Jimmy Dunn was given the decision over Jack Young of New Castle at the end of a 15-round bloodless, listless boxing contest before the Nonpariel Athletic club here tonight. The pugilists' fighting instinct did not seem to be aroused, and they worked the clinch-and-wrestle game to the limit. They advanced, swung and clinched throughout, and the tameness were so on the spectators that many heads were nodding at the finish. Referee Braden ruled that Dunn, landed on Young the most, despite the blows were light, and so awarded him the decision.

Frank Grant of East Liverpool, O., met J. McDonough of Colonia, and put up a good slugging six-round contest for novices, and aroused the only enthusiasm of the evening. No decision was given in this preliminary.

Prof. Fine Instructed.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 9.—The Princeton faculty committee on outdoor sports today instructed Prof. J. B. Fine, representative of the football rules committee, as to how he should vote on the question of amalgamation with the new rules committee appointed by the National intercollegiate football conference. Prof. W. B. Scott, chairman of the committee, tonight would not make public the results of the meeting.

ASK PROHIBITION IN NEW STATES

TO PROTEST AT WASHINGTON

Acting for the permanent committee on temperance of the Presbyterian general assembly, Prof. Charles Scanlon of this city will go to Washington to protest before the statehood committee against the proposed amendment to the temperance clause in the statehood bill which, if passed, will create new states from Arizona and New Mexico and Oklahoma and Indian territory. He will urge absolute prohibition of the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors in the new states for 21 years.

The decision to send Prof. Scanlon to Washington was reached by the temperance committee yesterday afternoon at its headquarters in the Conestoga building.

William C. Lilley presided, and those present were the Rev. Dr. Joseph P. Calhoun, the Rev. E. R. Worrell, of Butler, the Rev. Dr. Thomas B. Anderson, the Rev. A. R. Van Fossen and the Rev. Dr. Charles McClelland. It was decided to grant the corresponding secretary, the Rev. Dr. John F. Hill, leave of absence until May 1. Dr. Hill has been failing in health for some months and expects to leave on Thursday for Jacksonville, Fla. He will be accompanied by his wife.

To serve as corresponding secretary pro tem Prof. Charles Scanlon was selected, and he was immediately commissioned to go to Washington on the statehood bill. He will leave on Friday for Philadelphia and after spending Sunday there will go on to the national capital for the session of the statehood committee on Tuesday. The proposed amendment to the temperance clause in the bill, so as to allow the sale of liquor to whites but not to the Indians or on the Indian reservations, is strongly disapproved by the general assembly committee. It has instructed Prof. Scanlon to use every persuasion to have the bill provide for the absolute prohibition of the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors in the proposed new states for 21 years.

A QUESTION OF COST.

In any number of stores you'll see various preparations of cod liver oil at as many different prices. You'll wonder, perhaps, why Scott's Emulsion costs more than some other kind in as large a bottle. Hearing only one side of the question you may be led into buying the "just as good as Scott's" at the lower price. That's false economy. Scott's Emulsion costs more because its more expensive to make. Every ingredient is tested and guaranteed of the purest quality. No adulteration, no shaving of quality. There's no economy in bargain medicine. If you can afford to experiment with your health, substitutes may satisfy you. We take it, however, that you want a pure preparation, a reliable remedy and something that's going to help you. That's what you get in Scott's Emulsion. Thirty years the standard.

MRS. WILLIAM ROSS PROCTOR of New York city and Mrs. Otis Williams of Staten Island shared honors yesterday afternoon at a smart little bridge-luncheon which Mrs. Thomas W. Bakewell gave. Mrs. Bakewell entertained at her home in Shady avenue, her guests including Mrs. Proctor and Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Julia Watson Horne, Miss Mary H. Rhodes, Mrs. Charles Wharton, Jr., Mrs. William Bacon Schiller, Miss Marguerite Singer, Miss Isabelle Chalfant and Mrs. George Irwin Holdship. Pink roses and white Roman hyacinths were the simple but exquisitely dainty decorations. Mrs. Proctor came from her home in New York city to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Singer of Western avenue, Allegheny. Mrs. Otis, Mrs. Bakewell's other guest of honor, is her sister, and has been her house guest for several weeks. Both visitors will return east together, leaving Pittsburgh on Friday evening. Mrs. Williams is to be guest of honor today at a luncheon which Mrs. Julia Watson Horne will give at her home in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny.

Mrs. Arbuthnot's Reception.

The Pittsburgh Golf club was the scene of a beautifully appointed reception yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Charles S. Arbuthnot, Jr., of South Linden avenue was the hostess, and receiving with her were the two sisters, Mrs. Winfield Scott Arter, who was the guest of honor, and Miss Berger. The hours were from 4 o'clock until 6, and during that time the hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. Franklin Robinson, Mrs. James Henry Lockhart, Mrs. Richard Beatty Mellon, Mrs. William P. DeArmitt, Mrs. John Woodwell, Mrs. William Woodwell, Mrs. Ledlie Young, Mrs. Durbin Horne, Mrs. Margaret Lawrence, Mrs. James D. Haliman, Mrs. James M. Clark, Mrs. Haines Allen Machesney, Mrs. William Watson Smith, Mrs. Joseph Franklin Berger, Miss Annie Robinson, Miss Louise Singer, Miss Clara Aiken, Miss Grace Kelly and Miss Elizabeth Stevenson. The living, reception and dining rooms of the club house were profusely decorated with smilax, the vine being draped over all the doors and windows, and over the balcony railing and poles, as well as the walls on the second floor. Tall vases on the tables in the living room were filled with a great arrangement of annunciation lilies, asparagus springerii and Boston ferns, and the large mantels in all the rooms were effectively banked with ferns. The tea table had a centerpiece of pink roses and white lilacs, and around it were scattered single-stemmed pansies of various colors.

Dance at the Schenley.

Miss Minnie Agnes Beatty and Miss Lorraine T. Beatty, daughters of Henry Bruce Beatty of Rebecca street, East End, will give a dance at the Hotel Schenley on Friday evening, January 19. The guests have been asked to meet Miss McAdams of Richmond, Va., who arrived on Monday to be guests at the Beatty home for a fortnight. Mr. Beatty will receive with his daughters at the dance and they will be chaperoned by Mrs. Henry P. Hope, Mrs. George B. Motheral and Mrs. Norwood Johnston. The two young women will also entertain on January 17 when they give a euchre at their home for Miss McAdams; and again on Monday, January 22, when "500" will be the game played. Miss Annie Well will give a dinner on January 18 for the Richmond guest, and Miss Jean Roberts will entertain on January 16. Miss Eleanor Sherburne Ayers will be hostess at an informal little tea this afternoon at her home in Walnut street, East End, having Miss McAdams as her guest of honor.

Has Three Guests of Honor.

Miss Alice Dinger of South Fairmount avenue, East End, entertained with a large and prettily appointed reception yesterday afternoon. The honors of the occasion were shared by Mrs. William Pollard, a bride of last month; Mrs. Franklin Mitchell Cripps of Philadelphia, who is visiting friends in the city, and Miss Sharp of Baltimore, Miss Dinger's house guest. The assistants for the afternoon were Mrs. H. S. Dinger, mother of the hostess; Mrs. Charles Crawford, Mrs. P. A. Eier, Miss Elizabeth Hemphill, Miss Marie Hemphill, Mrs. C. W. Eier, Miss Sarah Shaw, Miss Evelyn Lippa, Miss Boss, Miss Charlotte Overend, Miss Helen Wood, Mrs. H. A. Carpenter, Miss Lucile Eier and Miss Minnie Brown. The reception was followed by a dinner-dance for the olds and men.

Luncheon for Miss Laughlin.

Mrs. William C. Robinson of Lincoln avenue, Allegheny, gave an informal little luncheon yesterday at her home on the North Side. It was in honor of her sister, Miss Madeline Frances Laughlin, whose engagement to the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander has just been announced. Covers were laid for Miss Laughlin, Mrs. Thomas Morrison Carnegie, Mrs. Josiah Copley Thaw, Mrs. William White, Jr., Mrs. Russell K. Forsythe, Mrs. John H. Ricketson, Jr., and the hostess. Mrs. Robinson will be hostess again on Friday when she entertains at bridge in honor of Mrs. William Ross Proctor of New York.

Cotillion Series is Concluded.

The last cotillion in the series scheduled for this winter at the Pittsburgh club was given last evening. The decorations were simple but pleasing. Smilax was thickly draped over the side lights and above the great white pillars at the side of the ball room. The stage panels were banked with palms and palms also filled the ledge above the stage. The guests were received by the patronesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Thaw Entertain.

A small and informal, but beautifully appointed dinner was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Copley Thaw, Mr. and Mrs. Thaw have taken the Remsen V. Messler house in Morewood avenue, Shadyside, and it was there they entertained last evening. There was no special guest of honor, but after the dinner the guests attended the last of the cotillions in the Pittsburgh club. They were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrison Carnegie, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Curtis Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. William Nimick Murray, Dallas C. Byers and George Singer.

Letter from State President.

Miss Kate C. McKnight, president of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, has issued the following letter, addressed to the president of the every woman's club in the Keystone state. It appears with a New Year greeting to the club woman. The letter follows:

"Dear Madam:

"At this time of the year, when one is surrounded by the happiness and good cheer of the holiday season, one's imagination is apt to be somewhat stirred, and I find myself wishing for 'King Solomon's Carpet,' or for the magical reindeer and sleigh so dear to the hearts of the children at this season, that I might fly quickly over the state and bring in person a New Year's greeting to each of the clubs belonging to our great federation. These magical methods of rapid transit being but figments of the imagination, I must, perforce, make use of Uncle Sam's methods, sending my greeting by his gray-uniformed messengers, and through the cold medium of ink and paper.

"Nevertheless, it carries to you my heartiest greeting and my best wishes for a Happy New Year, to the club as a whole and to each individual member, as well as my earnest desire that the present season may prove to be the most successful in every way that the club has ever seen.

"I hope, too, that this year will mark a great step forward in all directions, and that we may be more closely bound together in friendship and harmony and more united in furthering advancement along every line of good work which may appeal to us, an organization of women.

"I am glad to inform you that the Year Book is already in the hands of the printers, and that we hope to be able to issue it early in January. Will you please remember that one copy of this Year Book is sent to each club for the use of the president and secretary, and that all club members who desire to own a copy can obtain one from the chairman of the reciprocity bureau.

"I wish, also, to call the attention of your club to the Club Bulletin, which was adopted as the official state organ at the annual meeting in Cambridge Springs. It will contain in future all official communications in relation to matters pertaining to the work of both the State Federation and the General Federation of Women's clubs.

"The December issue of the Bulletin contains all the reports presented at the annual meeting, and is a most interesting and instructive number. We earnestly desire that every woman's club in Pennsylvania, as well as many of the individual members, will subscribe for the Bulletin.

"If your club is a small one, and you find it impossible to do all that you will be asked to do, pray at least assure the chairman of your interest and sympathy in remembering that she has given time, thought and study to the plan of work suggested, and that nothing discourages a chairman so much as not to receive answers to her letters.

"There are two matters which I myself wish to urge upon you especially. One is to use all your influence to have congress pass a bill to protect from destruction Niagara Falls by including that wonder of nature in a national reservation. Will you not also keep up your interest in the new child labor law, putting forth every effort to see that it is strictly enforced, observing any violation thereof and reporting the same to the chief factory inspector at Harrisburg, Capt. J. C. Delaney?

"We worked strenuously last year to have the legislature pass this law, but in many localities it is ignored, partly on account of ignorance among employers as to its provisions. To deliver children of tender years from the bondage of too long hours of work must surely appeal to every woman's heart.

"We are continually hearing of late that women mold public opinion, and that 'civilization is the power of good woman.' Since so much responsibility is laid upon us, let us see that we use our power wisely, and let us go about raising the standard of public opinion with more perseveringly than we have in the past.

"Faithfulness and loyalty are the watchwords I give you for the coming year, with these lines as a motto:

"There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true—
Then give to the world the best you have
And the best will come back to you.'

"Wishing you all a happy and successful New Year, full of every kind of blessing, I am,

"Yours most sincerely,
"KATE C. M'KNIGHT,
"President S. F. P. W.

"Allegheny, Pa., January 1, 1906."

Club House or Home?

There has arisen a desire on the part of a portion of the Wimodausis club for several months to divert the fund which the club has been raising for a club house to the erection of a home for the aged. The question was brought before the club yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting and was urged very strongly. It was finally laid aside as unconstitutional, the charter of the club providing only that the club can accumulate funds for the purpose of providing a meeting place. The funds which are now in the treasury were also secured solely with the understanding that they be used for the building or buying a club house, and many of the members of the club contend for the reason that they cannot be diverted into another channel. The club has now in its treasury for the building fund $1,800. To this, at the end of the club year next May, will be added the money raised during the past season by the entertainment committee, which amounts to about $300. The club also, since it has been given the privilege of meeting in Syria temple free of charge, contributes $10 a month to the building fund and this "rent money," as it is sometimes called, will be paid for this year next May, thus increasing the fund to about $2,700.

The club met yesterday with a larger attendance than usual. A request was received from the permanent civic committee of Western Pennsylvania that the Wimodausis club entertain at luncheon the women in attendance at the annual mid-winter conference. The club appropriated $65 for this purpose. An invitation was received from Ascalon commandery to assist in entertaining during the state conclave, which will be held the last of next May in the Colonial hotel. The club decided to accept the invitation for Wednesday, either May 23 or May 30. A short talk was given by Miss Brownson of the Pennsylvania College for Women, who spoke of the aims of the college and the gratification in having secured the endowment fund of $150,000. She asked the club women to assist in increasing that fund to $250,000 in order to place the institution on a par with other similar institutions in every respect, the present endowment fund of $150,000 making it possible only to meet the running expenses, while the college needs new furnishings and equipment. The Wimodausis club discussed the proposed benefit for the Newsboys' home, which will be given as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made.

Urge Measures Before Congress.

Prohibition for Indian territory, if it becomes a state; maintenance of the anti-canteen law and resistance of all measures for its repeal; the expulsion of Reed Smoot of Utah from the senate, and opposition to the bill permitting the sale of fermented malt beverages and light wines to soldiers on army transports and in post exchanges, were urged at the monthly meeting yesterday of the Allegheny County Women's Christian Temperance union.

Prompt action on these matters was urged upon the local unions by Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, the national legislative superintendent. Mrs. Emily Clark Scott, the new county legislative superintendent, urged that the local unions present petitions at once to the senators and representatives from this section, urging their support of these measures.

The request of Swift mission of Allegheny to entertain the next quarterly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was received. It has not been decided as yet in what place the meeting will be held. Reports from the different departments of the work were read and acted upon, none of them bringing out anything beyond the routine work, although several were very encouraging.

Would Bring W. D. Howells.

The Pittsburgh Colony of New England Women will try to bring William Dean Howells to Pittsburgh the last of March. The invitation will be extended to him, and should he come he will speak at a public meeting. The New England women met yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. David Kirk, the president, in Fifth avenue, Shadyside. The colony is aiming to promote the original literary effort on the part of its members. At the meeting yesterday Mrs. D. W. Kuhn read an original story, entitled "The Old Man." Mrs. Kuhn has written several clever stories which have appeared in the magazines. At present the colony is aiming to bring out the literary merits of its own members and later will take up a wider field, including some lines of philanthropic work. In the New England Magazine for January, 1906, a belated number, will appear an article descriptive of the Pittsburgh Colony of New England Women. At present it has 25 members with a least 10 applications for membership made yesterday, which will be accepted at the next meeting, to be held the second Tuesday in February.

Music and Tea.

The Tuesday Musical club gathered yesterday afternoon in the ball room of the Hotel Schenley for the first time for several weeks, having taken a longer recess than usual because of the holidays. The meeting was largely attended, and the program, arranged by Mrs. Charles M. Clarke, was particularly enjoyable. After the music, tea was served. A niece of Mrs. Clarke, Miss Reid, sang two songs, "Requiem," by Homer, and "Jean," by Burleigh. The remainder of the program included the following: Piano soli, "Du Bist die Ruhr," Schubert-Liszt, and a Fugue in E flat minor by Mendelssohn, Mrs. O. C. Gaub; song, "Il re pastore," Mozart, Miss Olive Wheat; songs, "Diche Liebe," Schumann, and "Die Bist wie eine blume," Schessinger, Miss Beulah Kennard; piano, etude in form of Romanza, Nevin, Miss Eva Lipps; an aria from "Herodias," Massenet, Miss Myrtle McAteer, and opus 1, G minor, prelude, gavotte and fugue, D'Albert Mrs. Ryley.

Women Less Humane Than Men?

YORK, PA., Jan. 9.—The Woman's club of this city was addressed here today by Mary E. Lovell, general secretary of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Mrs. Lovell said: "It is the attribute of woman to be merciful and humane, yet I regret to say that women often are less merciful and less humane than men. They practice cruelty when they wear birds or birds' wings on their hats. To this practice has been due the destruction of our sweetest song birds and those birds that are most useful to agriculturalists. The milliners tell you that the birds on your hat are manufactured. That is not true. The wings and the feathers that are used in manufacturing the birds and in the making of aigrettes are taken from birds that are slaughtered for the purpose. There is no objection to the wearing of ostrich feathers. I have visited the ostrich farms of California and found that there was no cruelty practiced there."

Chairmen of State Committees.

Miss McKnight has appointed all the chairmen of state standing committees for the year. They include the following: Art, Mrs. Irvin C. Elder, Chambersburg; civics, Mrs. W. H. Alexander, Monongahela; civil service reform, Mrs. Imogen B. Jahler, Philadelphia; domestic science, Mrs. Richard Whitson, Doylestown; pure food, Dr. I. V. Reel, Coatesville; education, Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, Carlisle; school city, Mrs. Anna H. Orme, Wayne; forestry, Miss Myra Lloyd Dock, Graeffensburg, Adams county; industrial conditions affecting women and children, Miss Julia Schoenfeld, Pittsburgh; juvenile court, Mrs. Levi Bird Duff, Allegheny; legislation, Mrs. F. P. Iams, Pittsburgh; library extension, Miss Anna E. Day, Connellsville; literature, Mrs. W. H. Warner, Erie; reciprocity, Mrs. Ellis, Lewis Campbell, Wayne; reciprocity bureau, Mrs. W. B. Beltzel, Carlisle; editor of Club Bulletin, Mrs. F. E. Howell, Reading.

Free Classes in Literature.

The free classes in literature will begin in the Allegheny High school tomorrow at 4:30 p. m. The study of "Antony and Cleopatra" will be taken up under the guidance of G. W. Gerwig, and an hour given to one act each week for five weeks. Members of the class or any others interested in Shakespearian study may either simply read the play or give it as much study and attention as they choose. While the weekly lectures will be given primarily for the benefit of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny teachers' reading circles, any others interested are invited to attend without charge. Mr. Gerwig is secretary of the board of controllers for the Allegheny schools.

Semi-Annual Missionary Rally.

The semi-annual meeting of the Women's Union Missionary association of Allegheny county will be held tomorrow in the Second Presbyterian church, Eighth street, near Penn avenue. There will be morning and afternoon session at 10:30 and at 1:30 o'clock. Several important committees will report, there will be addresses by distinguished missionaries representing different organizations, and Mookta Wood Myles, the little deaf mute Hindoo girl, who recently was brought from India to this country and adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Myles of Mt. Washington, will be present. Mrs. S. S. Gilson is president of the association and Mrs. Thomas Watters recording secretary.

Japanese Talks and Curios.

The Travelers held their first meeting of the new year yesterday afternoon in the Young Women's Christian association building. Mrs. Alfred E. Clark was leader for the day. Mrs. John B. Montgomery talked of Japanese festivals and Mrs. Albert Darragh described the Japanese children. Mrs. William J. Black gave a piano solo, "Bubbling Springs." Mrs. Harvey McKinney's paper on "Folk-lore and Legends" and that of Mrs. B. F. Veach on "Fables of Japan" were most interesting. Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Bailey, Miss Nelson and other members of the club discussed the papers at some length and Mrs. Clark displayed a number of curios. Miss Rena M. Wills of Walnut street, East End, was elected a member of the club.

Will Speak Before New Era Club.

Miss Brownson of the Pennsylvania College for Women will speak before the New Era club this afternoon at its meeting in the Central Young Women's Christian association.

No Secrets To Hide

We have nothing to conceal; no secrets to hide! We publish the formulas of all our medicines. You will find these in Ayer's Almanac for 1906; or write us and we will send them to you. Then show the formulas to your doctor, and ask him what he thinks of them. If he says they are good medicines, then use them. If he has anything better, then use his. Get well as soon as you can, that's the point!

In the Oil fields

The Big Injun development on Sugar creek, near Wick, Tyler county, has of late been furnishing nothing better than light producers. Development work is still fairly active and the Carter Oil Company has just drilled in a second test on the Carse heirs' farm that shows for a better producer than the late average. The pay was tapped at a depth of 25 feet in the Big Injun and the well started to flow at the rate of 100 barrels a day. The location is to the northeast of the development and makes the territory in that vicinity look good for more producers. On the east side of the pool Pearly, Smith & Co. have completed their test on the Hopewell school lot and have a show for a 25-barrel producer. In the same district the Freehold Oil & Gas Company of Pittsburgh has started a second test on the G. P. Myers farm. The first test on this farm was completed last month, came in a very good producer and is still holding up at 35 barrels a day.

In the Turkey Foot extension, in Hancock county, Sutton Bros. have completed a second test on the J. C. Cameron farm and have a show for a light well in the Berea grit. Development work in the Brook county field has declined. There is no new work to start. So far as the territory has been tested it shows but a narrow streak, running northeast and southwest. On the line named the producing sand does not show to have an average width of more than 400 feet and a little more than a half mile in length. Near Freemansburg, Lewis county, the Reserve Gas Company has completed a test on A. Woofter's farm and has a gasser in the fifth sand. Near Point Pleasant, Tyler county, the Metrose Oil & Gas Company has given its test on the Pierpoint estate a shot in the Big Injun, but failed to improve the showing. It will not make better than a five-barrel pumper. In the Folsom district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 3 on the Jesse Talkington farm 30 feet into the stray sand and has developed no oil or gas. No. 18 on the Genlne Robinson farm has been given a 20-quart shot and is now spraying a little oil.

On Campbell's run, Marion county, the South Penn has drilled its test on the Samuel Eakin farm through the fifth sand and has a duster. In the same district the same company has drilled its test on the F. H. Shultz farm through the fourth sand and found it barren. It is now drilling to the fifth sand.

In the Berea grit development, near Woodsfield, Monroe county, O., the Central Gas Company has completed a test on the Norman Donnelly farm and has a gasser in the Berea grit. In the same district the Central Gas Company and the Fisher Oil Company have completed No. 10 on the Frank Schumacher farm and have a show for a 40-barrel producer in the Berea grit. The same companies have drilled No. 5 on the same farm into the Big Lime and have developed a gasser. The same companies have a gasser in the Big Injun at their second test on the George Ketter farm. The Pure Oil Producing Company's No. 7 on the L. Christman farm, dry in the Berea grit, will make a smaller pumper from the Keener sand. The Unity Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the J. T. Denbow farm through the Big Lime and has a duster. Three miles north of Jerusalem, in the edge of Belmont county, Hue & Vandergrift have drilled their test on the Joseph Budd farm into the Keener sand and have a show for a 15 or 20-barrel producer.

On Clear Fork, in Sycamore valley, Monroe county, the Federal Oil Company has completed its test on the George Parks farm and has a five-barrel pumper in the Cow Run sand. The same company has drilled its test on the Thomas Conner farm through the Cow Run sand and has a show for a 15-barrel pumper. In the Plum Run district, Harrison county, the Moore & Calhoun Oil Company has completed No. 4 on the J. W. West farm and has a five-barrel pumper in the Berea grit. In the Willis Creek district, north of Steubenville, Jefferson county, E. H. Jennings Bros. & Co. have completed their No. 4 on the George Vaughn heirs' farm and have a 15-barrel pumper.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET CONTINUES TO BROADEN

Crucible Preferred and Tonopah Extension Score New High Prices—New York Stocks Were Less Active and Prices Irregular.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The local stock market continued to broaden yesterday, and with few exceptions the tone was buoyant. A leading feature was the strength of Crucible Steel preferred, which jumped to 79¾, a gain of 2½ per cent, and the highest price quoted since 1903, when the dividend was suspended. The extent of the rise during the past few days suggests that a short interest exists in the stock, although the buying is generally looked upon as of an investment character, based upon expectations of a restoration of the old rate of dividend in April or not later than July. The street does not take much stock in the stories of any new deal affecting the status of Crucible. The common stock was more active than the preferred, but moved within a narrow range, 4,243 shares changing hands at 14⅜@14⅞, the stock closing at a net gain of only ⅛ per cent. United States Steel issues were moderately active, the common closing ⅜ lower and the preferred ⅝ per cent higher.

Tonopah Extension made a new high record, advancing from $7.85 to $8.60, and reacting to $8 at the close, a net gain for the day of 25 cents a share. The sales were less than half the total for the day before, and there was the same apparent manipulation for the purpose of keeping the price down to absorb stock. In the curb market 30,000 shares Golden Anchor changed hands at prices ranging from $1.08 to $1.30, closing at $1.20 bid. Ohio Tonopah was also fairly active, nearly 5,000 shares changing hands. Lustre Mining made a fair rally to 35. There were no transactions in United Copper and the stock closed nominally quoted at 64½ bid, 65 asked. There have been no new developments in connection with the alleged deal between United and Amalgamated Copper, and although all interest in United has apparently subsided, local traders express the belief that a merger of the two old rivals will be one of the events of the current year.

The only weak spot in the market was Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which declined to 58 and recovered to 59½ at the close, a net loss of ½ per cent. Manufacturers Light and Heat was firm and on sales of 1,350 shares advanced to 33⅝ at the close. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas directors postponed until tomorrow their meeting to take action on the dividend and the stock remained steady at 44. National Fire Proofing common was firm and advanced a dollar a share to 84. The preferred was unchanged at 24½. Westinghouse Electric was unchanged at 87, while Switch and Signal lost a fraction, selling at 90. There were no transactions in Air Brake.

In the New York stock market yesterday the course of prices was irregular, and there was a falling off in trading. The tone at the opening was quite firm, and the upward movement which occurred during the first two hours, was helped by the buying of London. After the noon hour, however, trading became comparatively dull and reactionary, and in the final dealings the tone became heavy. Most of the early gains were wiped out, and with the exception of a few specialties prices closed lower.

One of the causes of the reaction was the rise which occurred in call loan rates during the afternoon, when a good demand appeared at 8 per cent and the rate touched 8½ per cent, after ruling most of the day at 6 per cent. Time loans, however, were distinctly easier, and bankers were no longer asking a commission in addition to the regular rate. Sterling exchange declined slightly, and fears of gold exports were allayed for the time being at least. The sub-treasury shipped $350,000 currency to Cincinnati, but it was estimated that the New York banks had received double that amount from Canada.

The greatest advance was scored by the minor iron and steel stocks, particularly those of the southern group. Tennessee Coal and Iron opened higher at 145 and rallied to 149½, closing 4¾ per cent higher than on Monday. Republic Iron and Steel common rose 5 points to 38⅝ and closed with a gain for the day of 2¾ per cent. The preferred rallied from 107⅞ to 110½, but reacted to 108¾ at the close. Colorado Fuel and Iron closed ½ higher. United States Cast Iron Pipe common reacted after the declaration of the usual quarterly dividend. United States Steel stocks moved within comparatively narrow limits and closed at only slight net changes. Locomotive common closed ⅜ lower.

The copper stocks were heavy during the greater part of the day. Anaconda broke from 261 to 250 and closed at 256. The street has become accustomed to these violent fluctuations, which are no longer regarded as significant. Amalgamated Copper ranged between 110⅝ and 108⅝ and closed at 108¾. American Smelting closed ⅝ lower, National Lead 1½ lower and Sugar 1⅝ lower.

Activity and strength in the railroads embraced both extremes of the list. Northwest, Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific were strong and closed higher. The Missouri, Kansas & Texas issues were active and higher. St. Paul, New York Central and Northern Pacific closed lower. Pennsylvania and Reading gained small fractions, but Baltimore & Ohio closed unchanged and Erie a fraction lower.

The impression prevailed that the manipulation was directed to a distribution of stocks by the pools, but the ease with which the general market rallies discourages operations on the short side of the market.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Some disappointment was expressed in Wall street yesterday over the failure of any large outside demand to appear for stocks. The absence of this demand is ascribed to a widespread feeling that a large amount of stock was bought to support the market during the period of money stringency, and that this stock is now hanging over the market. This opinion was expressed regarding United States Steel common. It is said that on Monday when traders started in to bull this stock they found something like 75,000 shares awaiting absorption at 45, and that when other parts of the market were tested a similar condition of affairs was found to exist. The market yesterday lacked snap.

S. B. Chapin, head of the prominent New York brokerage firm of S. B. Chapin & Co., was in the city yesterday. Mr. Chapin was recently elected a member of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, and he was on the floor yesterday interchanging views with local members. Regarding the New York market he expressed the opinion that before the advance could go much farther, the public would have to become familiar with the current level of prices. He seemed to be mildly surprised when one of the local members who is familiar with the iron trade stated that well informed men in Pittsburgh thought United States Steel common high enough around 45, while they seemed to be still favorably disposed toward Steel preferred.

President T. N. Barnsdall was out of the city yesterday, and the meeting of the directors of Pittsburgh Oil and Gas to take action on the dividend was postponed until tomorrow. The stock remained unchanged at 44.

It was reported that Chicago placed a large buying order in the local market yesterday for Tonopah Extension, but that the price advanced so rapidly that the order could not be filled. While talk on the stock continues bullish, there is a very general feeling that the rise has been too rapid, and that if the market should now become dull, there would be a natural reaction which would make it easier to fill orders on the buying side.

There was a better demand for Manufacturers Light and Heat and the price closed ¾ higher at 33⅝. Only 13 shares Ohio Fuel Supply changed hands. There were no sales of Philadelphia Company.

The weakness in the coal stocks is ascribed to the impending conferences of the wage scale. The best opinion is that there will be no strike in this district the coming spring, but uncertainty on this point is likely to have a depressing influence upon a narrow market for this class of stocks.

The annual meeting of the National Fire Proofing Company occurs the second Thursday in February, and the advance of a dollar a share in the common stock yesterday may have been based upon advance knowledge of the character of the forthcoming financial statement.

Directors of the Wooley Smokeless Furnace Company have declared a dividend of 3 per cent out of the earnings of the last eight months, which covers the actual life of the company.

The German Trust Company has declared a dividend of 2 per cent, payable February 3.

The Asher Horse and Mule Company has declared an initial dividend of 20 per cent, payable forthwith. In addition a large sum was placed in the reserve fund, net earnings for the year having been approximately 80 per cent.

Union Pacific directors were in session yesterday, but it was stated they transacted only routine business, the dividend not being due for consideration at the present time.

The semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent on the preferred stock of the Huntingdon & Broad Top Mountain railroad is payable January 25 to stockholders of record January 18. This makes 7 per cent for the year 1905, 3 per cent was declared six months ago. The Preferred stock is entitled to dividends up to 7 per cent per annum and the 4 per cent now declared makes this amount for the year.

The directors of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent, payable February 1.

President Ripley of Atchison says the subject of increasing the dividend on the common stock has not been discussed in the board.

The United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on its preferred stock and a dividend of 1 per cent on the common stock, payable March 1.

The directors of the Amalgamated Copper Company will hold their regular quarterly meeting on January 18, to take action on the dividend.

A premium of 1 per cent to borrow 25,000 shares Anaconda Copper for six months was reported to have been offered in Wall street yesterday.

While the December movement of prices carried the majority of New York shares to record levels there was a group of important securities which did not live at any time within measurable distance of previous high records. These have been the favorites in the new speculative advances of this week. Pennsylvania and its allied railroads are notable examples, the present price level ruling far below the maximum touched in former speculative campaigns. The recent movement of Atchison is given the same explanation.

DARLINGTON LOT SOLD FOR $100,000

Irwin M. Fickeisen Buys Big Property at Water and West Streets.

EAST END SALE OF $22,500

The Mary C. Darlington property at Water and West streets, extending through to First avenue, has been sold for $100,000. The buyer is Irwin M. Fickeisen of the brokerage firm of Whitney, Stephenson & Co., who is a new investor in the downtown field. For over 60 years the property has been in the Darlington family, Mrs. Mary Darlington having secured it when a girl from her grandmother, Mrs. O'Hara, at the time Mrs. Darlington and the late Mrs. Schenley were living with Mrs. O'Hara. Years ago the corner was of much more importance in a business way than recently, as the buildings have been allowed to deteriorate and are of little value now. The lot measures 60x150 feet and has erected on the Water street end a brick building occupied by a scrapiron firm and a frame stable on the First avenue end. The rental from these is very low and in order to make this property desirable the present shacks must be replaced by a modern warehouse or other structure, which could easily be rented at a good figure. The price paid for the Darlington lot is $1,667 a foot for the Water street or First avenue frontage, or $11.11 a square foot. This seems very reasonable compared with $14.06 a square foot, which was paid for the First ward school house diagonally across First avenue last spring, or $29.17 a square foot, which H. H. Willock paid for the Painter holdings in Water street, between Wood and Market streets, last week. The deal for the First ward school house was on a cash basis and later it was sold for $315,000 on a trade basis, or at the rate of $23.40 a square foot.

Another Broad Street Sale.

The Kelly-Wood Real Estate Company has sold for A. J. Davis to a local investor 6103-6110 Broad street, a short distance east of Sheridan avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $22,500. The lot is 30x145 feet, extending back to Kirkwood street, and adjoins the T. B. Moreland holdings, which were sold Monday by George B. Kelly for $60,000. On the Davis lot are three frame houses which are rented for about $1,000 a year.

Thomas the Commonwealth Real Estate Company, S. L. Tone, vice president of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, has bought from C. E. Rumsey a farm of 66 acres in Washington county for $10,700. The farm is at Van Emmons station, on the Washington branch of the Panhandle railroad, about midway between Morganza and Canonsburg. It has a modern brick residence, cottage, silos and barns, and will be used by Mr. Tone for a summer home.

It is reliable that Zorah Barach sold only a one-half interest in his property at the northwest corner of Wylie and Sixth avenues last week, instead of the whole of it. I. L. Aronson of the Aronson Realty company is the buyer, and he pays $87,500 for a one-half interest in the lot. The buildings are old, but are rented at a good figure, the income. Mr. Barach bought the property last spring from Gilbert T. Rafferty for $67,500, so the present sale indicates a profit of $7,500.

William Bauersmith has sold to Sarah B. G. Quigley an improved property, 50x124 feet, in Rebecca street, Twentieth ward, for $13,000.

More Leases in Wabash Building.

Avey & Irish have closed three more leases in the Wabash station building, which is fast filling up with representative business firms. To the Iron City Coal and Coke Company, which is now in the Ferguson building, they rented the rooms 702-704 for two years. The Dunning Marble and Granite Company, now in the Bissell block, has secured a suite at $92 for three years. W. J. Hartzell & Co., brokers in dairy products, have leased room 701 for three years and will move there from their present quarters at 329 Liberty avenue.

Old "Commission Row" is being rebuilt by the big "To Let" signs at a rate that promises some changes there in the spring, even if the old buildings are not replaced by modern structures this year. For it will require a considerable amount of fixing over and modernizing to make the present buildings available for any other purpose than commission houses. Four signs have been put up this week on buildings between Sixth and Seventh streets, and the brokers are receiving many inquiries as to how the buildings can be rented. It has been reported that a prominent retail firm was negotiating with Thomas J. Keenan for the erection of a 10-story store building on his 60 feet at Liberty avenue and Seventh street, but evidently the deal is not closed yet, for a "To Let" sign is now hailed to the [illegible] building, which will be vacated April 1 by James A. Miller & Sons [illegible] move to their new building Penn a nue and Twenty-first street.

Skyscraper Agents Will Meet.

The renting agents of office buildings have been called to meet at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, in the board room of the Real Estate Trust Company, to discuss the question of making leases in accordance with the spirit of the last "Moving Day" meeting held in the Lloyd building, when the date of moving was unanimously changed from April 1 to May 1. Chairman James W. Wardrop of the "Moving Day" committee of nine men has called this meeting and the general committee will assemble with the skyscraper agents to discuss the matter fully. The public spirit appears to be a necessity, because of the confusion that is liable to result from having two dates of expiration for the office building leases, and it is expected that some practical scheme will be decided on to avoid this trouble.

Architects Alden & Harlow are preparing plans for a $25,000 brick residence at North Negley and Elgin avenues for A. E. Nieman.

Bids are being taken by Architects Robinson & Winkler for the stone church to be erected at Parkers Landing by the Presbyterian congregation of that place at a cost of $15,000.

Architect H. E. Mills is receiving estimates on the erection of 13 concrete block houses for the Monongahela Petrified Brick Company at Cuthbertson.

Architects Thomas W. Boyd & Co. are taking bids on the erection of a three-story flat building, 60x80 feet, at Ternon and Fleming avenues, Allegheny. The owner is E. A. Loomis and the building will contain six flats.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—The wool market is more active at firm prices. The range of the transactions for the week covers fleeces, Infi Texas, California northern, fine and fine medium territories and secured wools in the domestic field, and Australian fine merinos and South American high quarters. Stocks of wool are well cleaned up, especially territories. The demand for territories has been running more to fine and fine medium grades. Fulled wools are in better movement. Foreign grades are steady. The current prices in the Boston wool market are about as follows, having been subject to some slight revision: Ohio, Pa. and domestic fleece, X and above, 30@25c; X, 33@34c; No. 1, 36@ 40c; No. 2, 39@41c; fine unwashed, 25@26c; ¾-blood, unwashed, 32@34c; ¾-blood, 34@34½c; half blood, 32½@34c; unwashed delaine, 38@ 39c; fine washed delaine, 36½@37c. FIRMER MARKET FOR BUTTER OF ALL KINDS

Break Is Expected, However, as There Is Big Supply in Transit. Lima Beans Are Firm.

The firmness which has lately developed in the butter market will probably last a day or so longer and then a break is expected, as the reports from shippers show there is a large quantity of butter ready for shipment, and this will increase the receipts to a great extent. The demand yesterday was not as strong as it had been on several of the preceding days, but the market still presented a firm appearance.

The demand for apples yesterday was fairly active and a fair trade was had in this line. The prices at the present time are slightly favoring the buyers.

Cranberries are in extremely limited supply and those in stock are held at very high figures. Cranberries by the barrel are not to be had under any conditions and those in boxes are reported not to be of the best quality.

An active market is reported in lima beans and the prices are slightly higher, with small receipts. The market for California lima beans is reported as being very firm at the present time and from advices received it is likely to continue so.

Arrivals of eggs are still liberal and consequently this market again presents a weak appearance. A more firm feeling is expected in the near future, as unfavorable weather conditions are prevailing in the nearby sections.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 25 cars oats, 2 cars feed, 3 cars hay, 5 cars corn, 1 car straw and 1 car rye. Baltimore & Ohio, 2 cars corn, 2 cars hay, 3 cars oats and 1 car straw. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars corn, 3 cars hay, 3 cars oats and 1 car middlings.

The market showed a continued improvement during the day and as on the previous day prices were advanced to a great extent. Another advance is predicted shortly.

STOCKHOLDERS NAME DIRECTORS

The annual election of directors of national banks took place yesterday, while many trust companies and other financial institutions also elected their official boards. Annual reports were submitted to the stockholders and were of an encouraging nature.

Not many changes were made, other than those required to fill vacancies caused by death. However, in some cases, names were dropped and others added. Another step toward the consolidation of the First National and Industrial National banks was taken yesterday when President John W. Garland of the Industrial bank was elected a director of the First National bank. J. L. Dawson Speer was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles E. Speer and James McCrea was named to succeed W. W. Willock. The Industrial bank directors were re-elected and will continue in office until details for the proposed consolidation are completed. Cashier F. H. Richardson of the First National was elected to the directorate of the First National of Allegheny to succeed the late Mr. Speer.

The Union National, because of consolidation with N. Holmes & Sons, added five new directors, as follows: Frank Semple, H. Darlington, W. R. Thompson, Lee Mason, Jr., and Frank A. McCune. Frederick E. Powers, general manager for McCreery & Co., succeeds Robert A. Phillips on the board of the Real Estate Company, Mr. Phillips having taken up his residence in California.

Other Changes Made.

A. S. Beymer was added to the Keystone National board and Willis L. King was named to succeed I. B. Laughlin because of the foreign residence of the latter. Lute Hornickel succeeds the late Capt. S. S. Brown on the board of the Marine National. Assistant Cashier John B. Hahns was elected to the board of the Federal National of Allegheny. The Columbia Savings and Trust Company added D. B. Bell, Richard Cannon and John Groetzinger to its board.

John McLeod and William M. Parkin retired from the board of the Diamond National and Albert C. Wettengel was named to succeed Harry C. Wettengel. Eugene S. Reilly succeeds Peter Noind on the boards of the Washington National and Washington Trust Company.

C. W. Davidson was named to succeed Murry A. Verner on the boards of the Pennsylvania National. A. M. Travis succeeds H. H. Willock on the directorate of the Land Trust Company. Charles E. Schuenis was added to the board of the Western Savings and Deposit bank and Theodore Hoffman was named to succeed the late Julius Schmidt. H. B. Beatty succeeds W. W. Ramsey on the directorate of the German National and J. S. Craig was named in place of E. J. Frauenheim, deceased. Following are the new boards named yesterday:

INSURANCE MEN QUIT BANK DIRECTORATES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—At the annual election of the National Bank of Commerce today, James W. Alexander, Richard A. McCurdy, Chauncey M. Depew, James Hazen Hyde and William H. McIntyre, all of whom were prominent in the insurance investigation, retired as directors, as well as D. O. Mills. Four new directors were elected: Paul Morton, the new president of the Equitable; Paul D. Cravath, the personal counsel of Thomas F. Ryan, who controls the Equitable; Charles H. Allen, vice president of the Morton Trust Company, and former governor of Porto Rico, and Victor Morawetz.

The directors of the Fidelity Trust Company and the Union National bank of Newark, N. J., today elected successors to James W. Alexander and James Hazen Hyde, William A. Day, controller of the Equitable, and Aaron Adams were elected in the first, and in the Union National, Mr. Day and Archibald Conklin.

REMNANT DAYS

Thursday and Friday

¶ Two months of the year—January and July—the occasions of our semi-annual Remnant Days—a time when the thousand and one odds and ends from the previous season's selling are out on the counters at the most trivial prices—figures we make so low that they can't possibly fail to attract purchasers.

¶ This Fall and Winter season of 1905-06, we have carried the largest retail stocks in our 34 years' history—and consequently more ends of lines, remnants, and sample lots have accumulated than for any previous Remnant Sale.

¶ Tomorrow and Friday, we hold the weeding-out process—A SALE ABOUNDING IN THE GREATEST ECONOMICAL ADVANTAGES OF THE ENTIRE YEAR.

¶ All Remnants and Short Ends of Silk, Wool and Cotton Materials, Short Lengths of Carpets and Draperies, Odds and Ends of all kinds of Women's Furnishings and Clothing, Millinery and Footwear, Remnants of Ribbons and Table Linens, Broken Lines of Men's and Boys' Suits, Overcoats and Furnishings, Remnants of Laces, Embroideries and Dress Trimmings, Odd Lots of Furniture, Curtains, Wall Paper, Etc., Etc.

Everything to Go These Two Days at ¼, ⅓, ½ and Even Less Than the Former Prices!!!

See This Afternoon's Papers for Full Details.
